Dear Class of 1981:

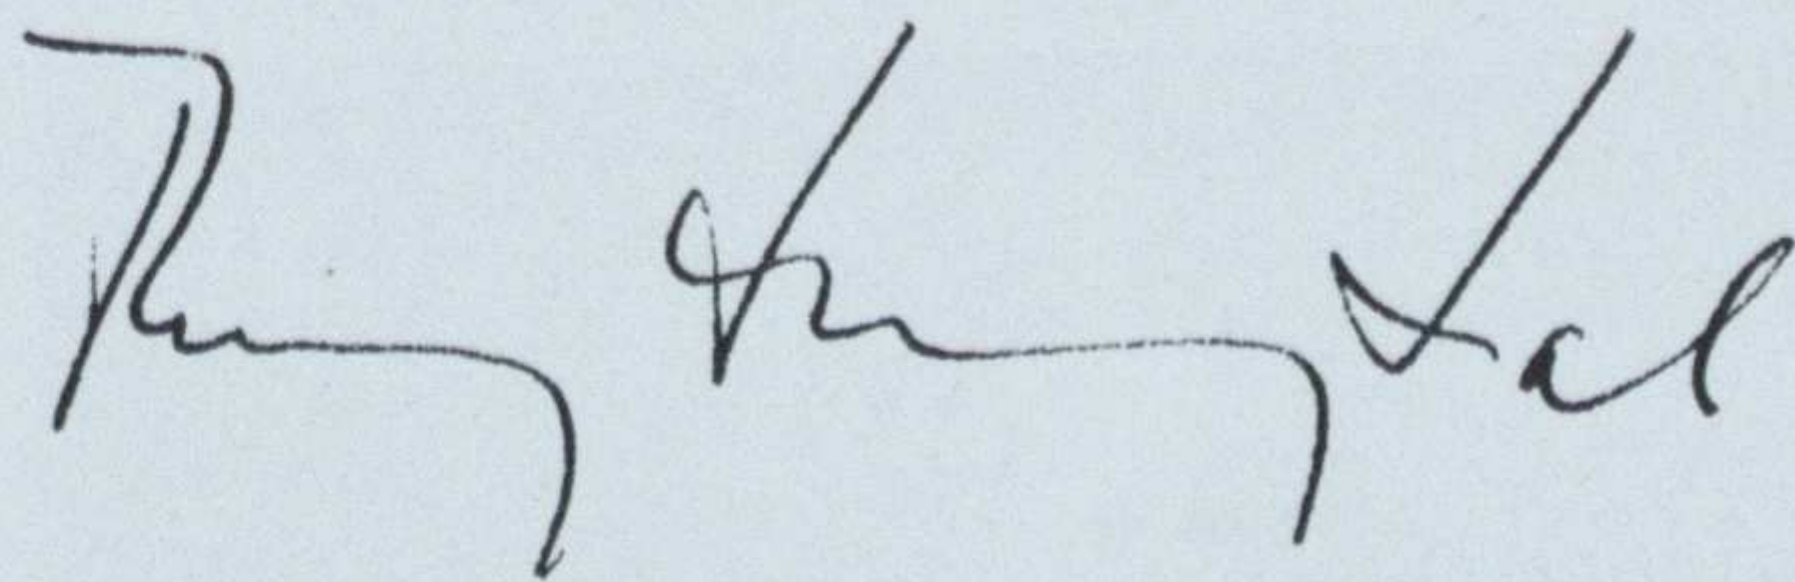

Since I am just completing my first year as Dean of the Washington College of Law, you are my first graduating class. It gives me particularly great pleasure to congratulate you on the successful completion of your studies and to wish you well in your professional and personal lives.

This is a time when everyone tells you about your responsibilities, opportunities, challenges; when your future is painted either bleak or rosy depending on a momentary perception of the political or economic prospects for the country. I shall resist the temptation to do likewise.

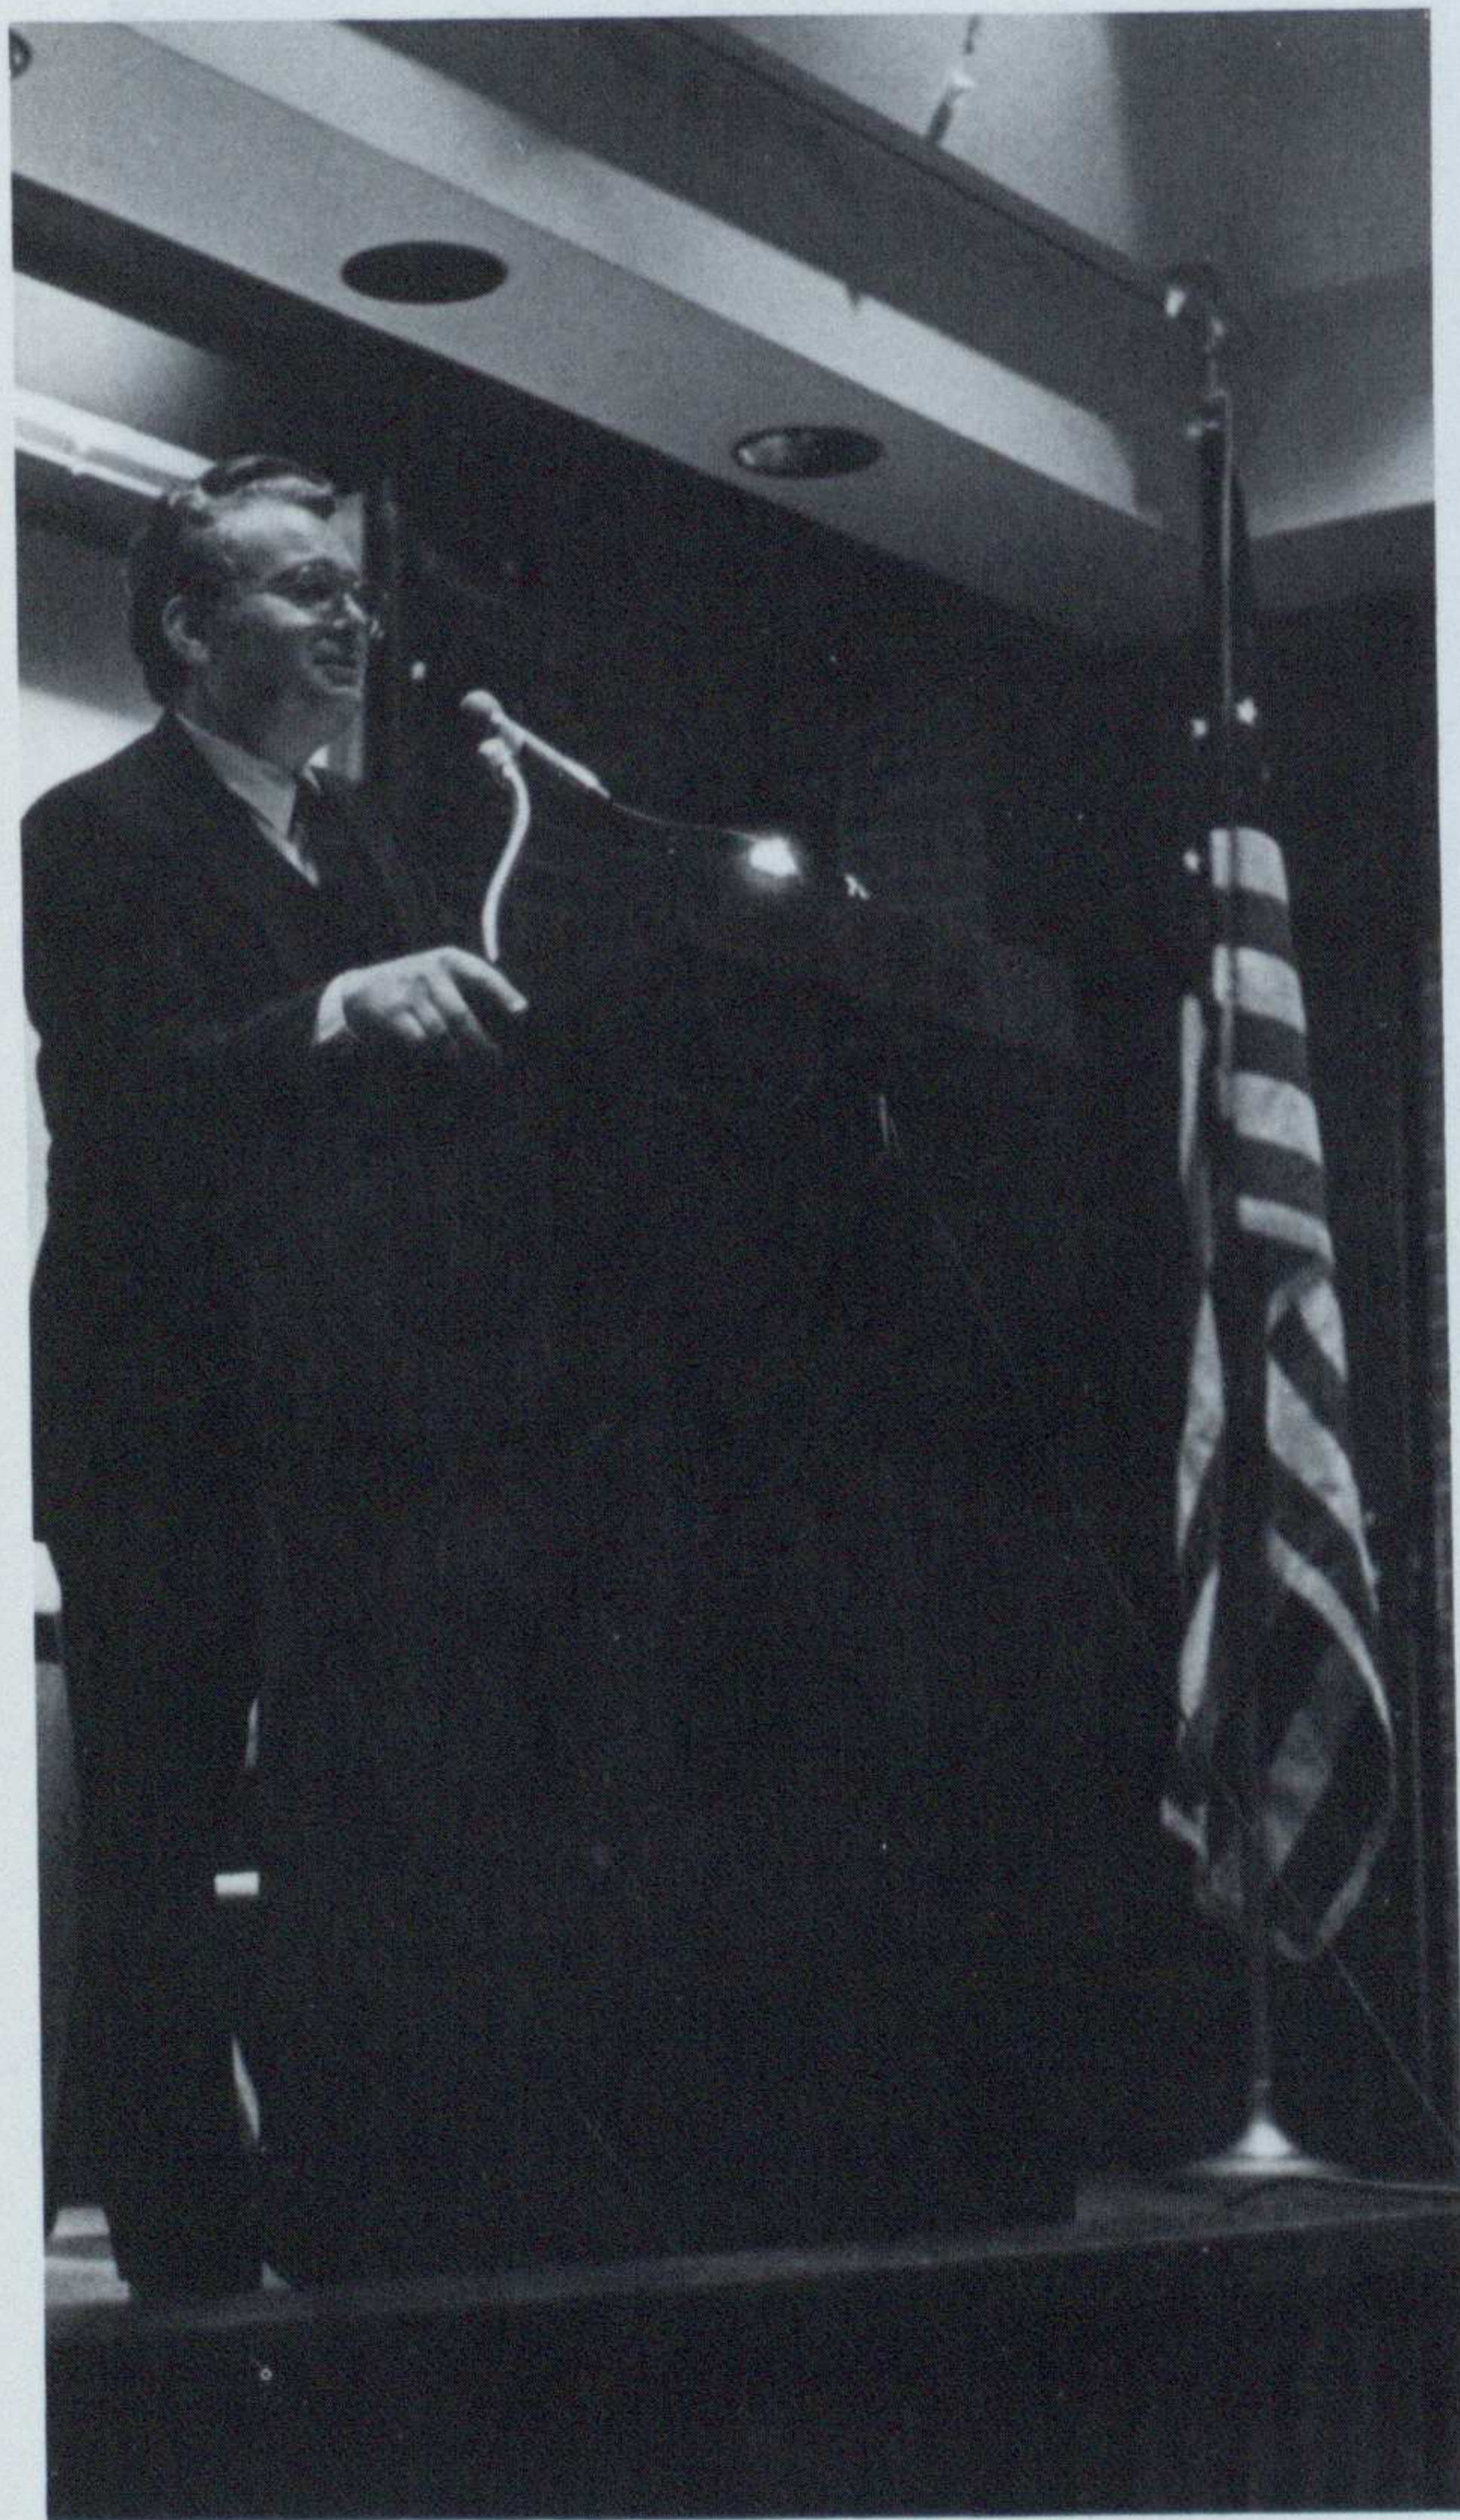

I do want to express the hope, however, that you are and will remain pleased with the legal training you have received at this Law School and that you will stay in touch and help us ensure that it continues to improve as an institution capable of making an ever more significant and enlightened contribution to legal education in this country and abroad.

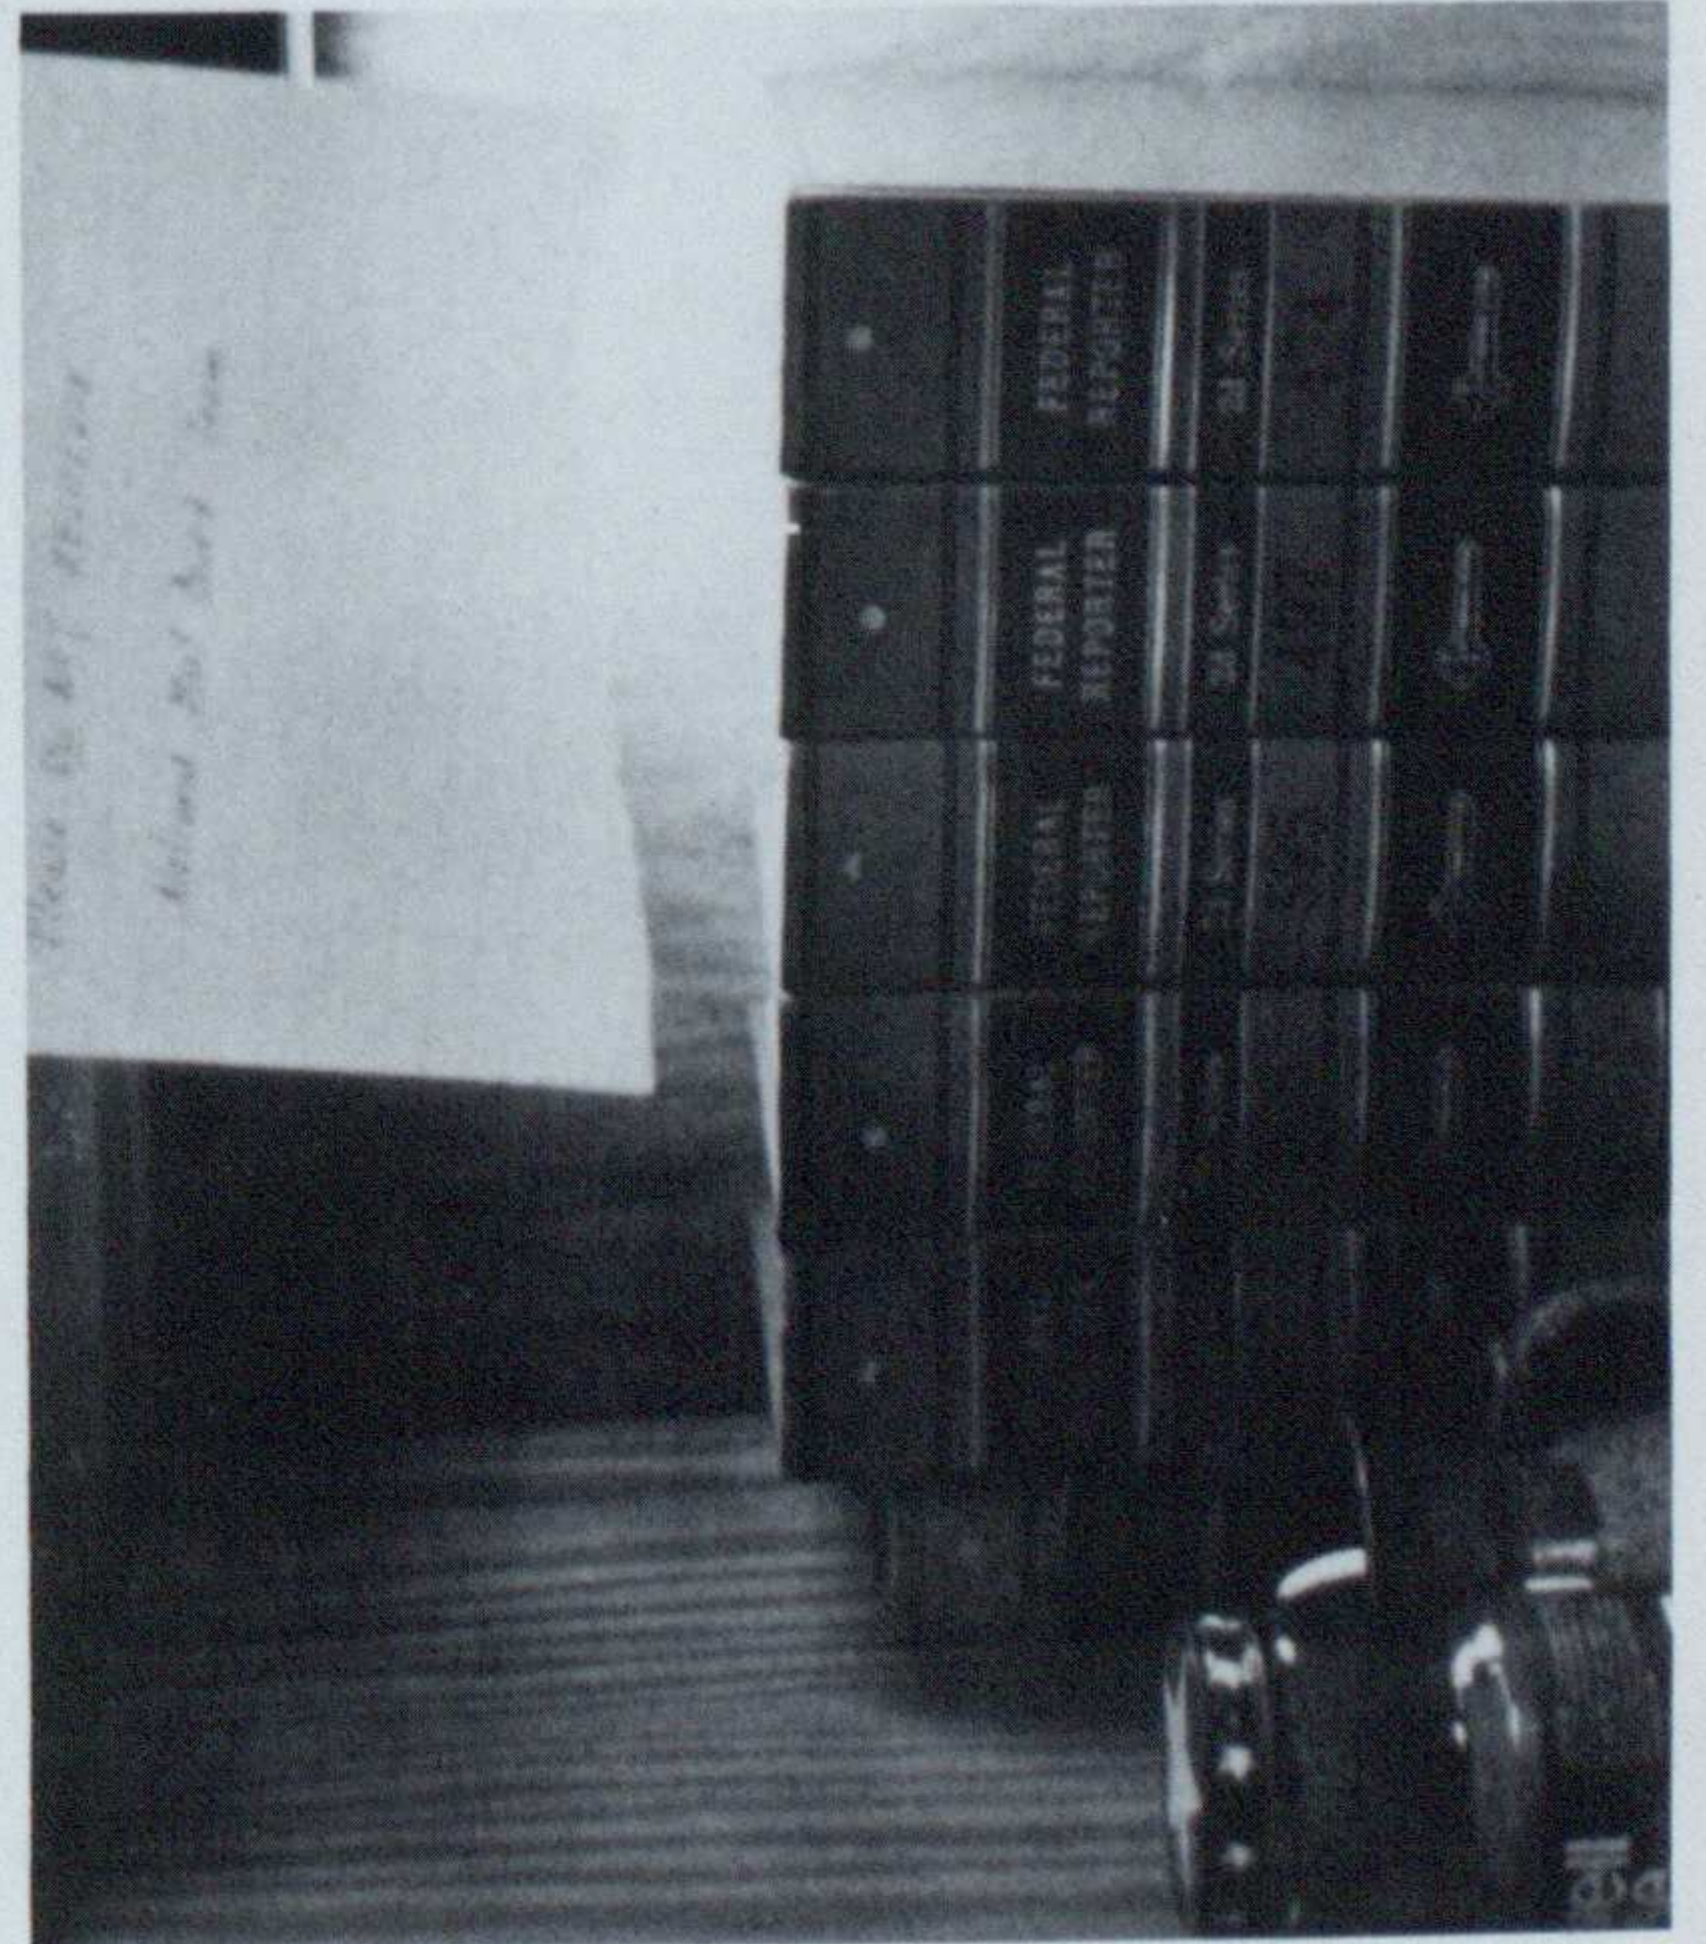

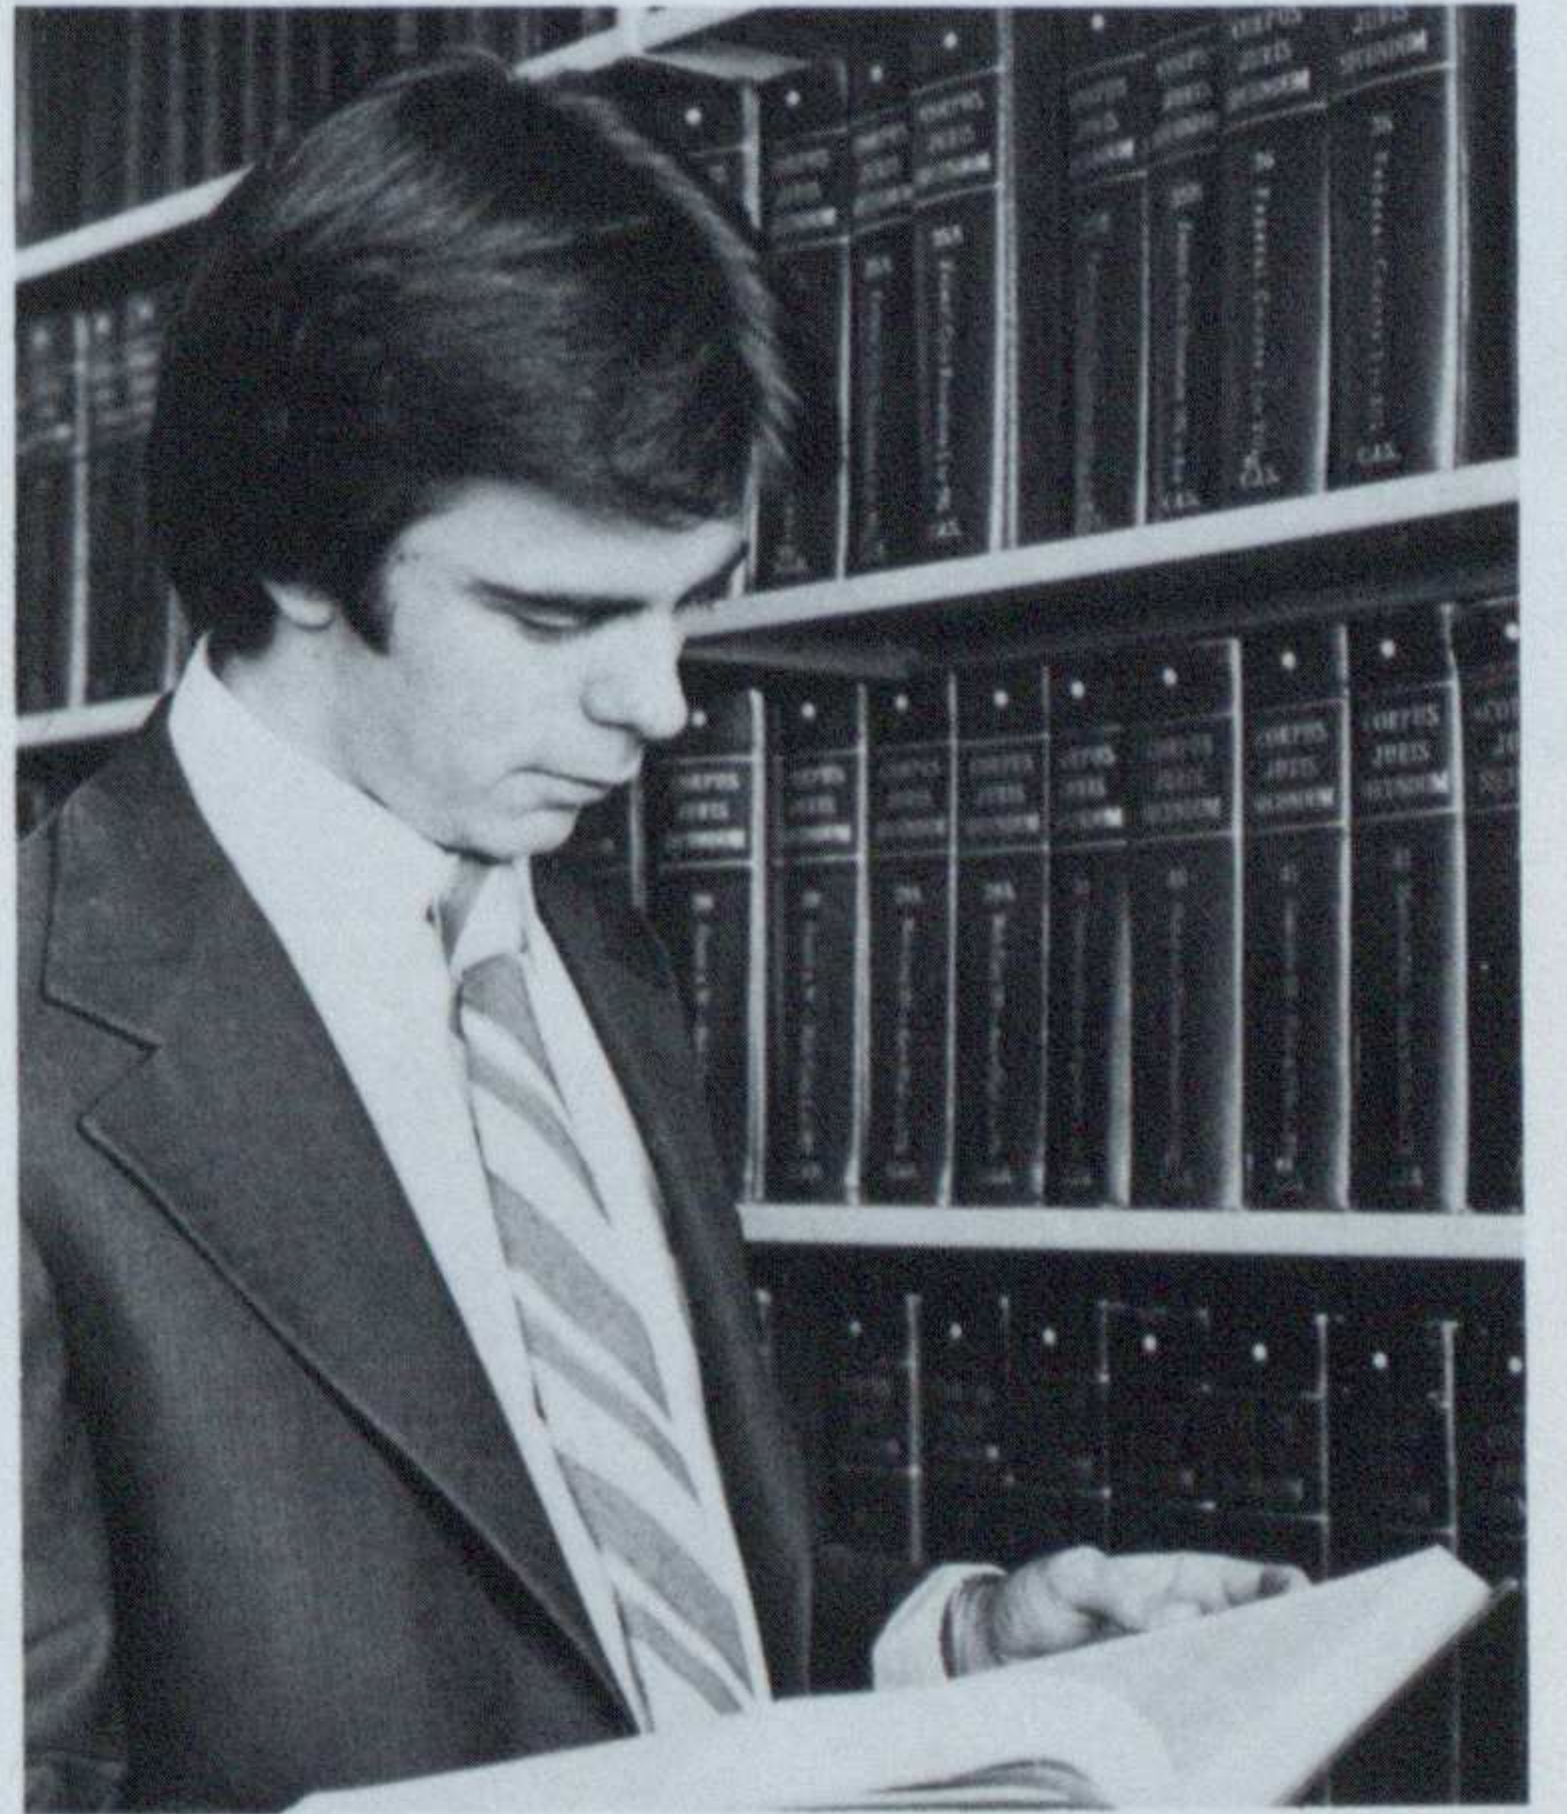

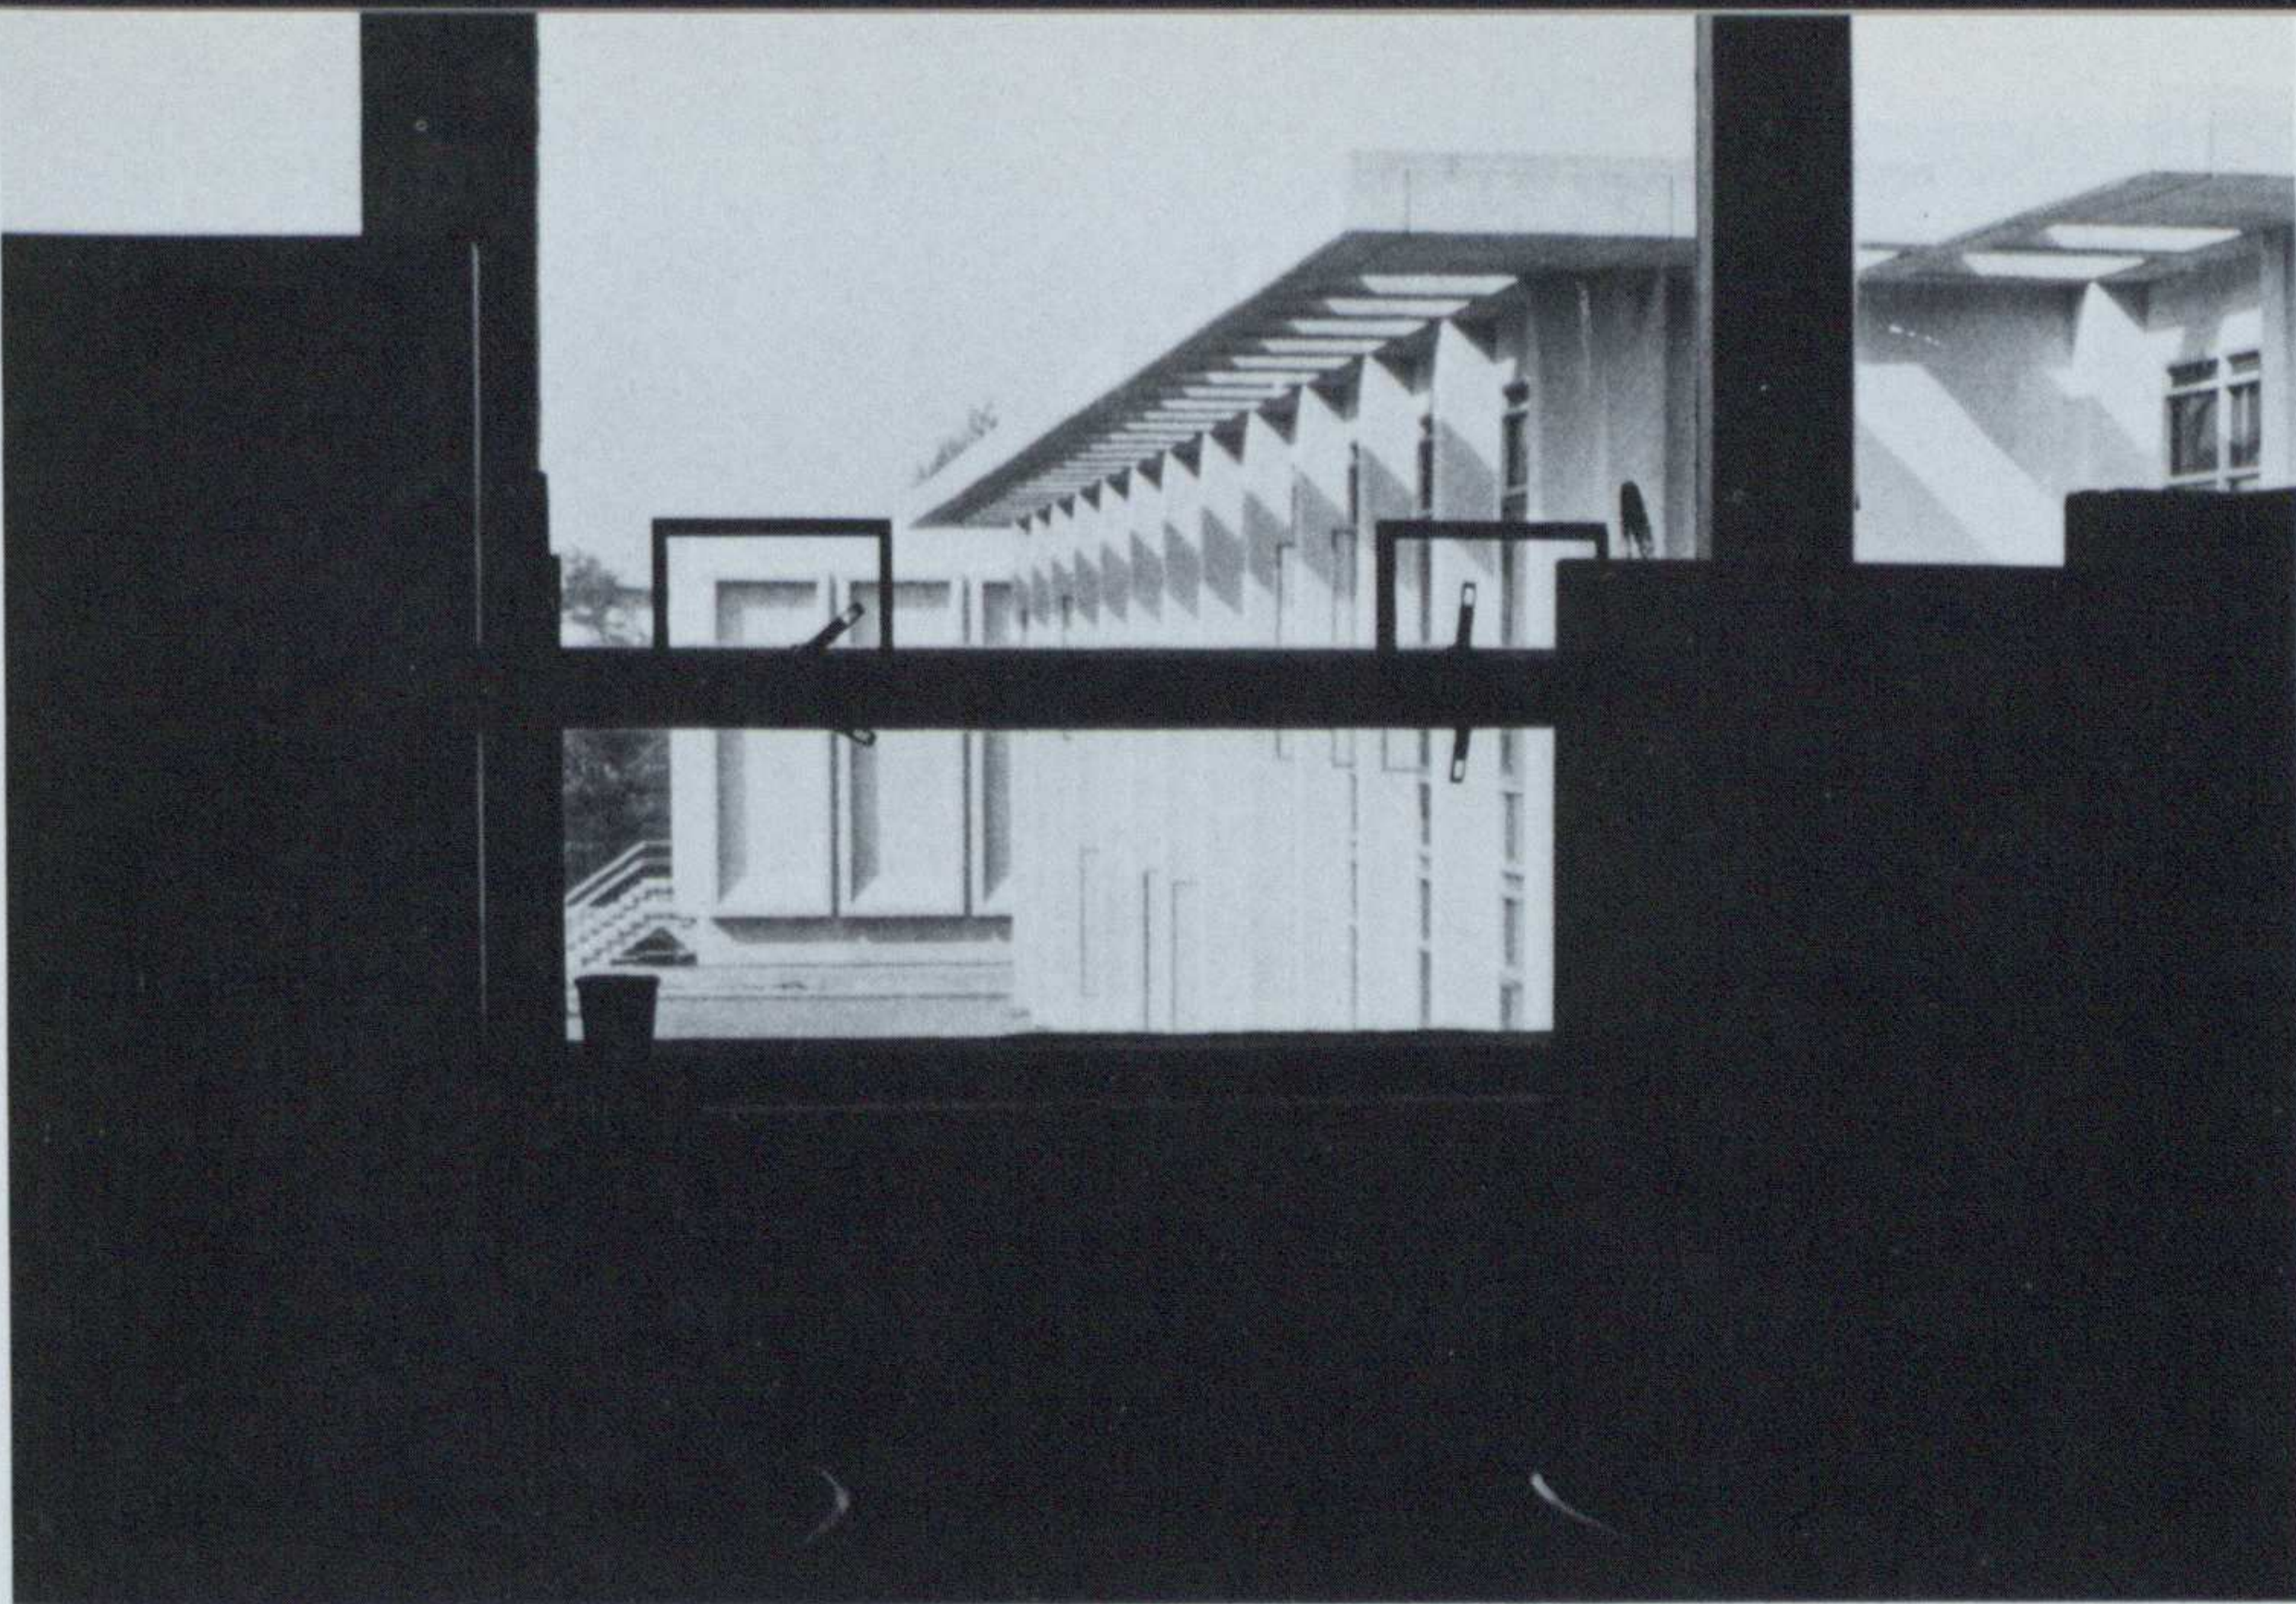

My colleagues, both faculty and staff, join me in congratulations and best wishes.

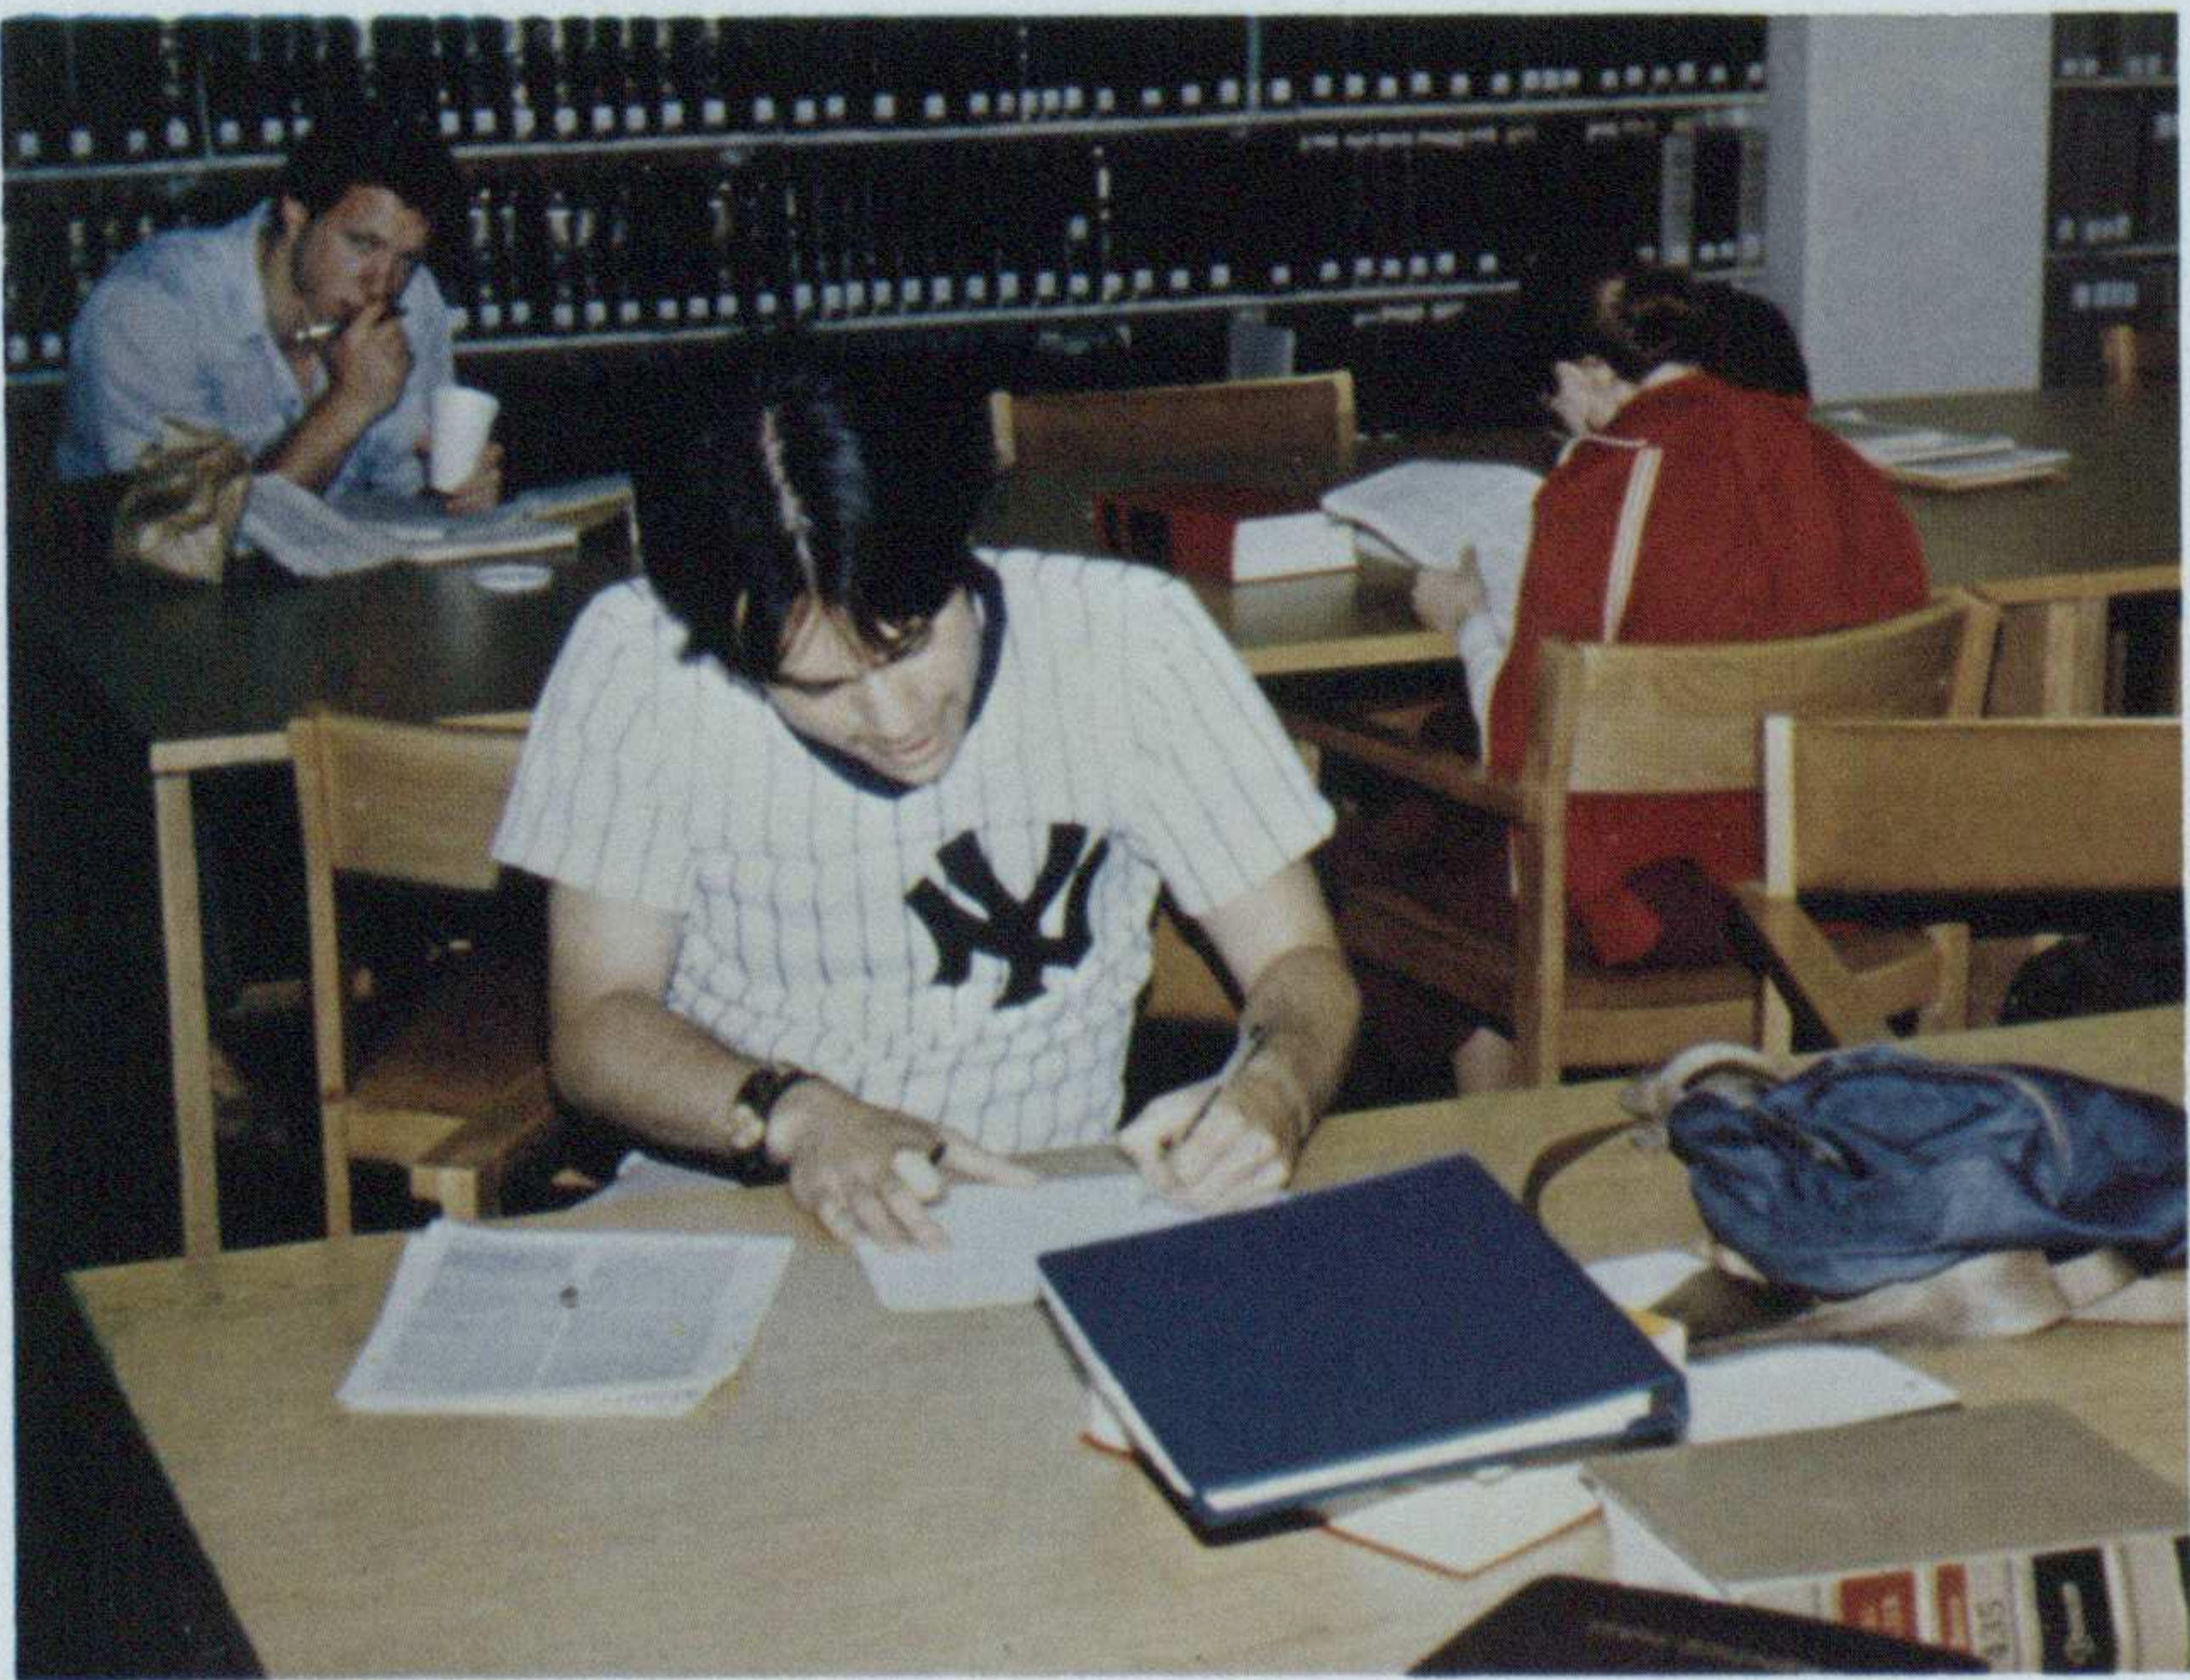

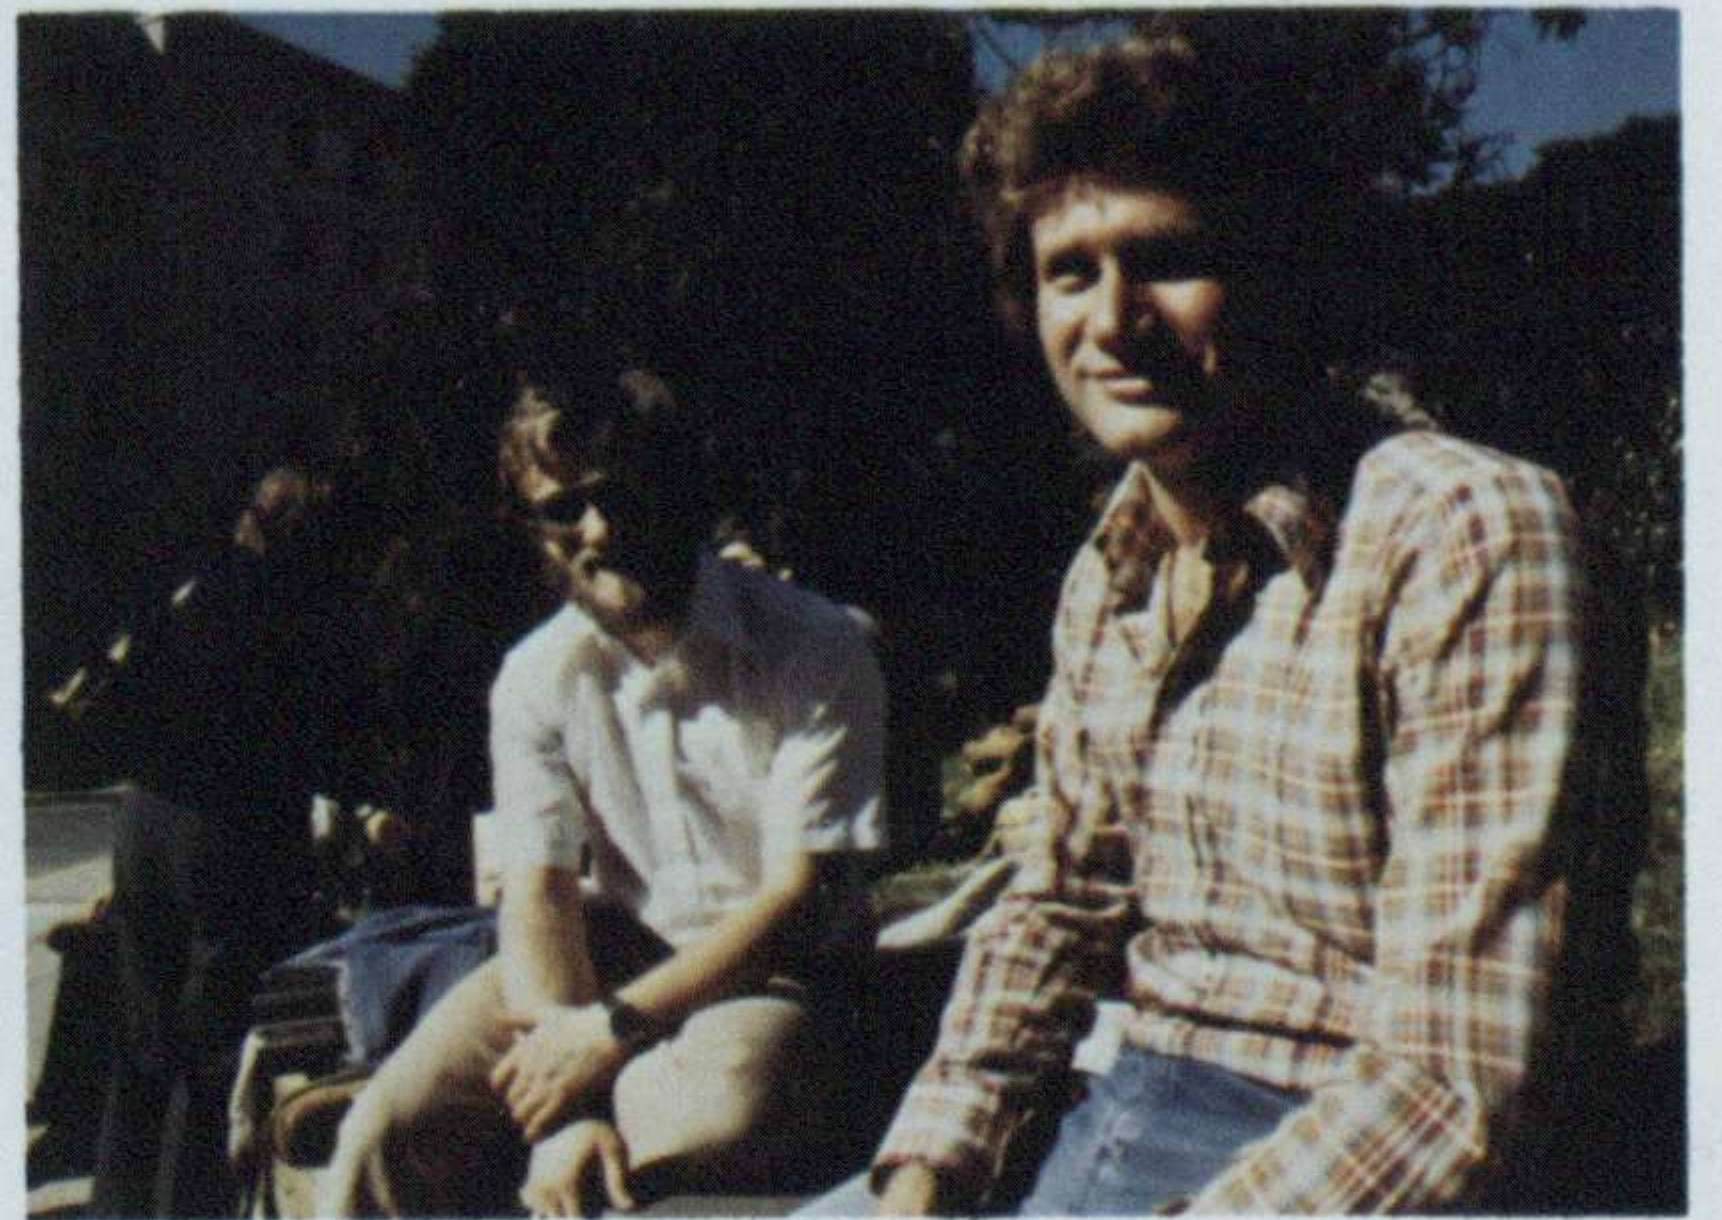

Cordially,

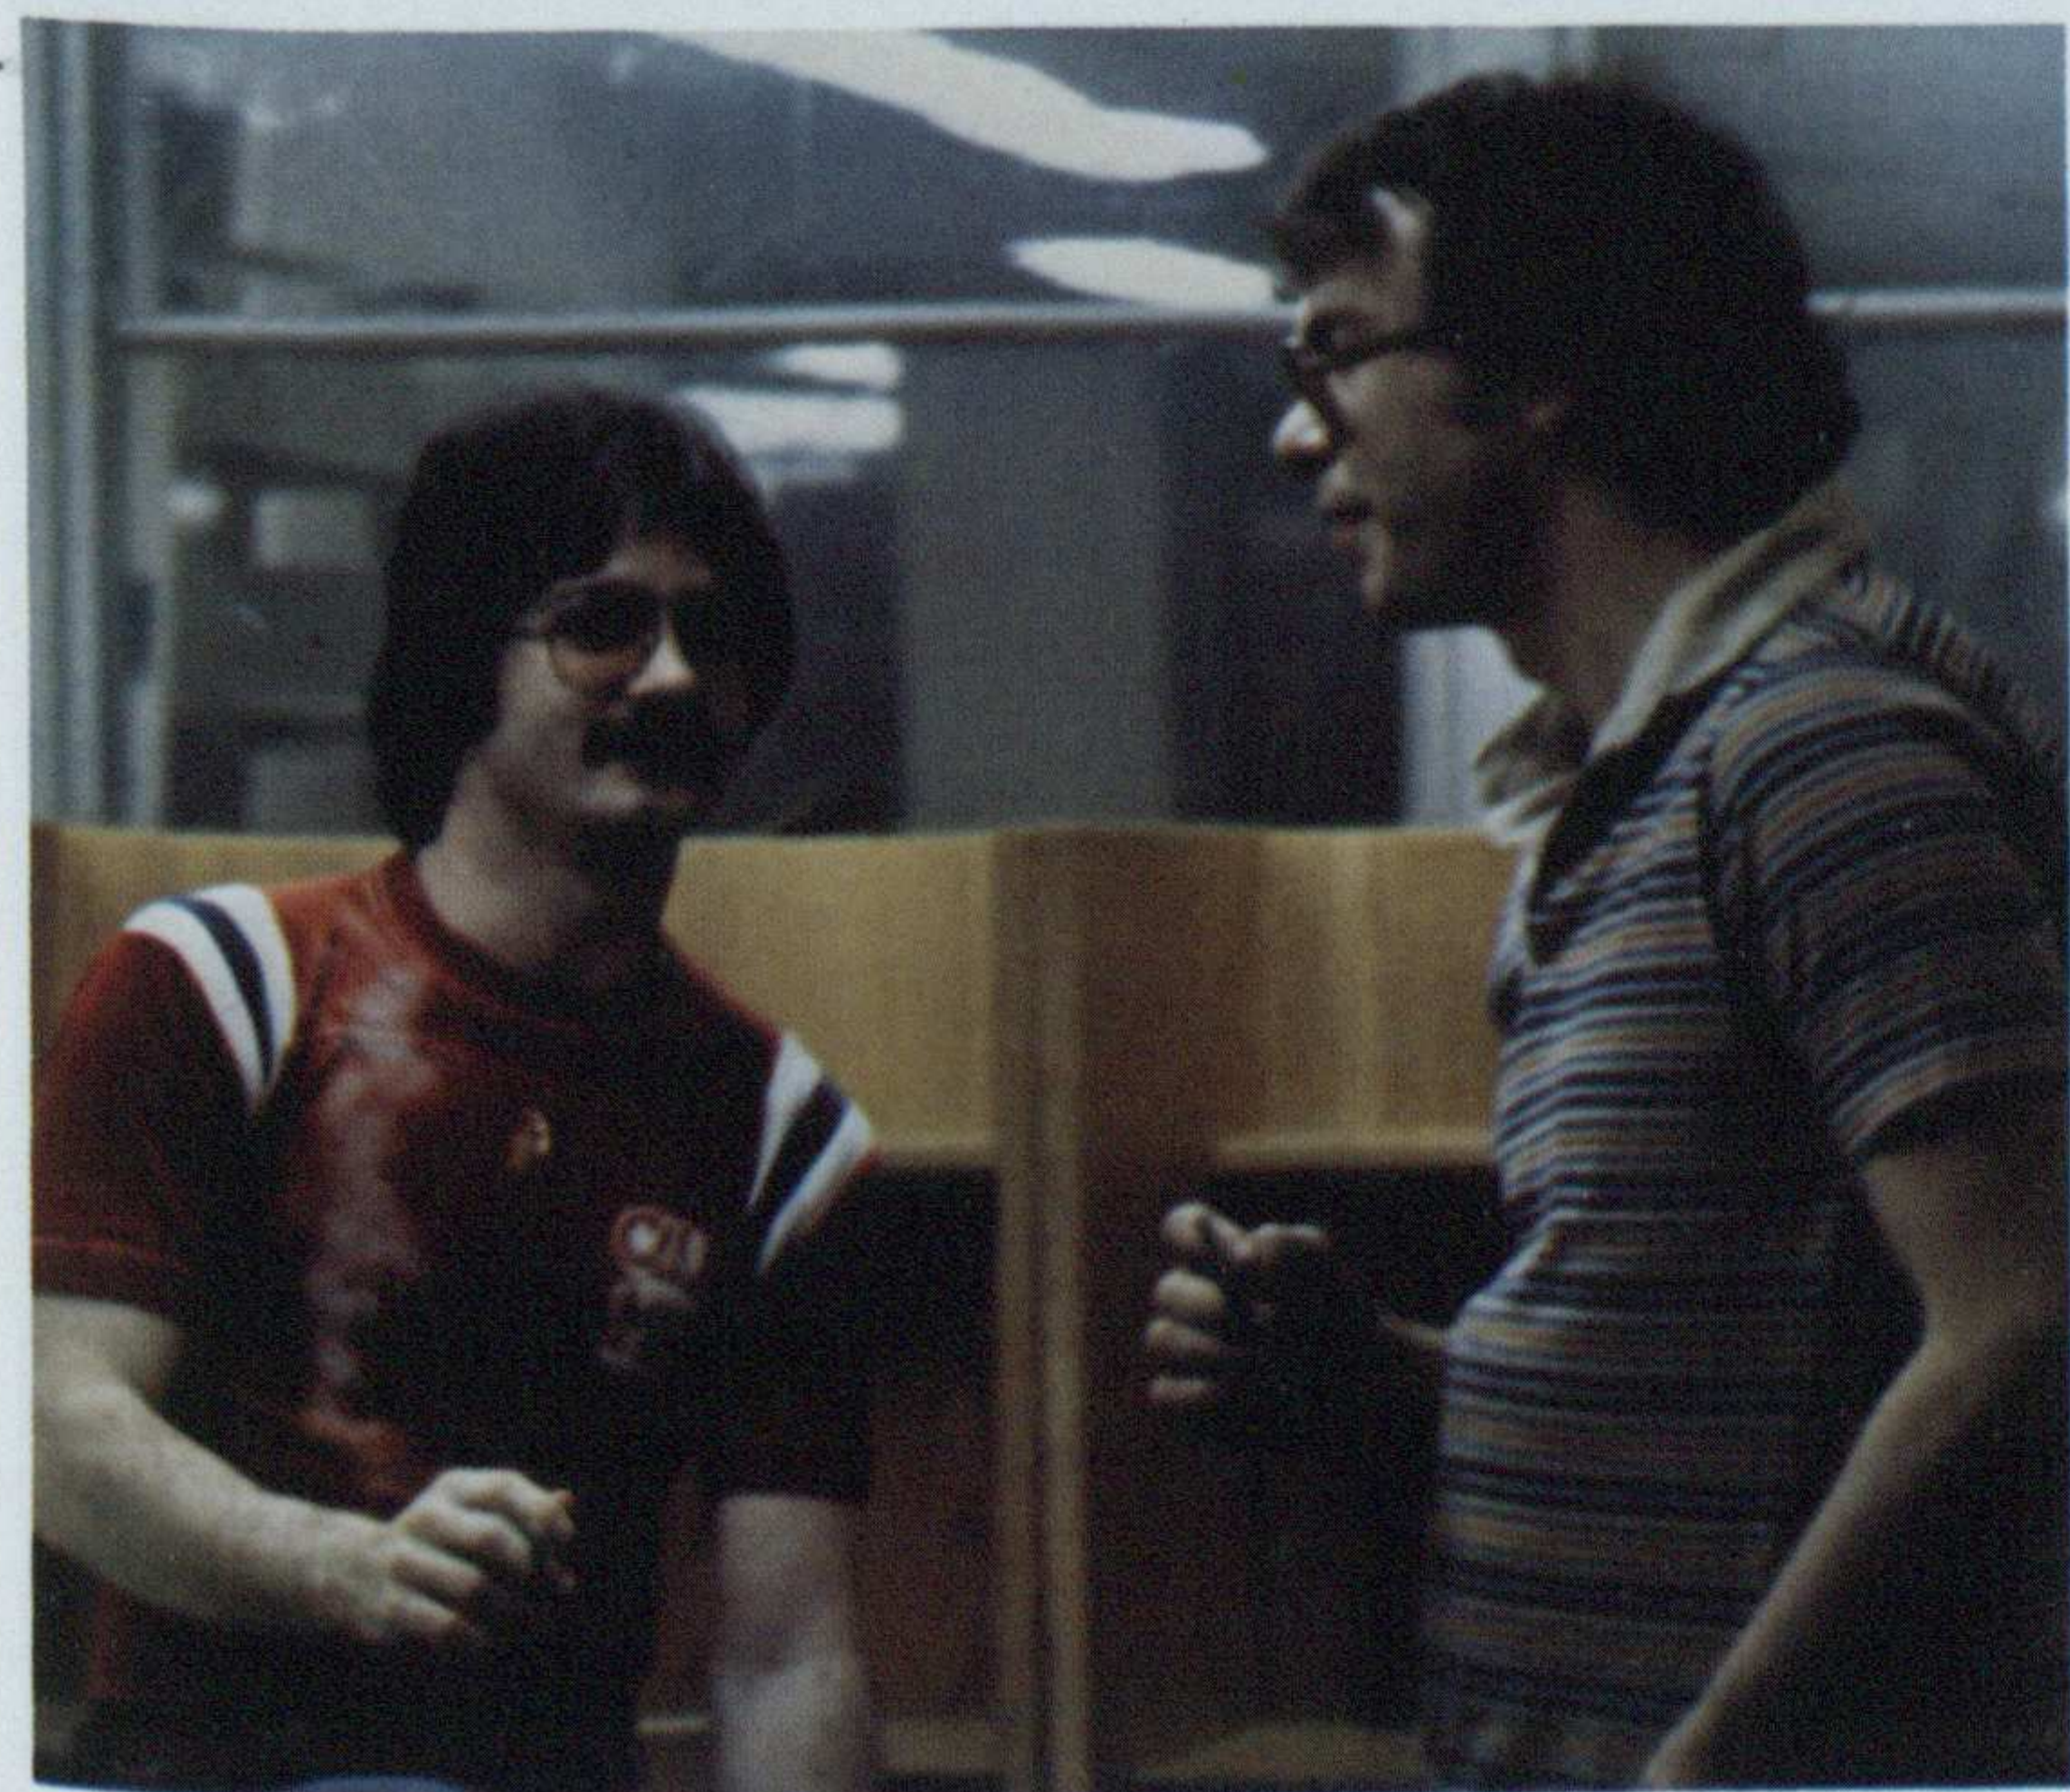

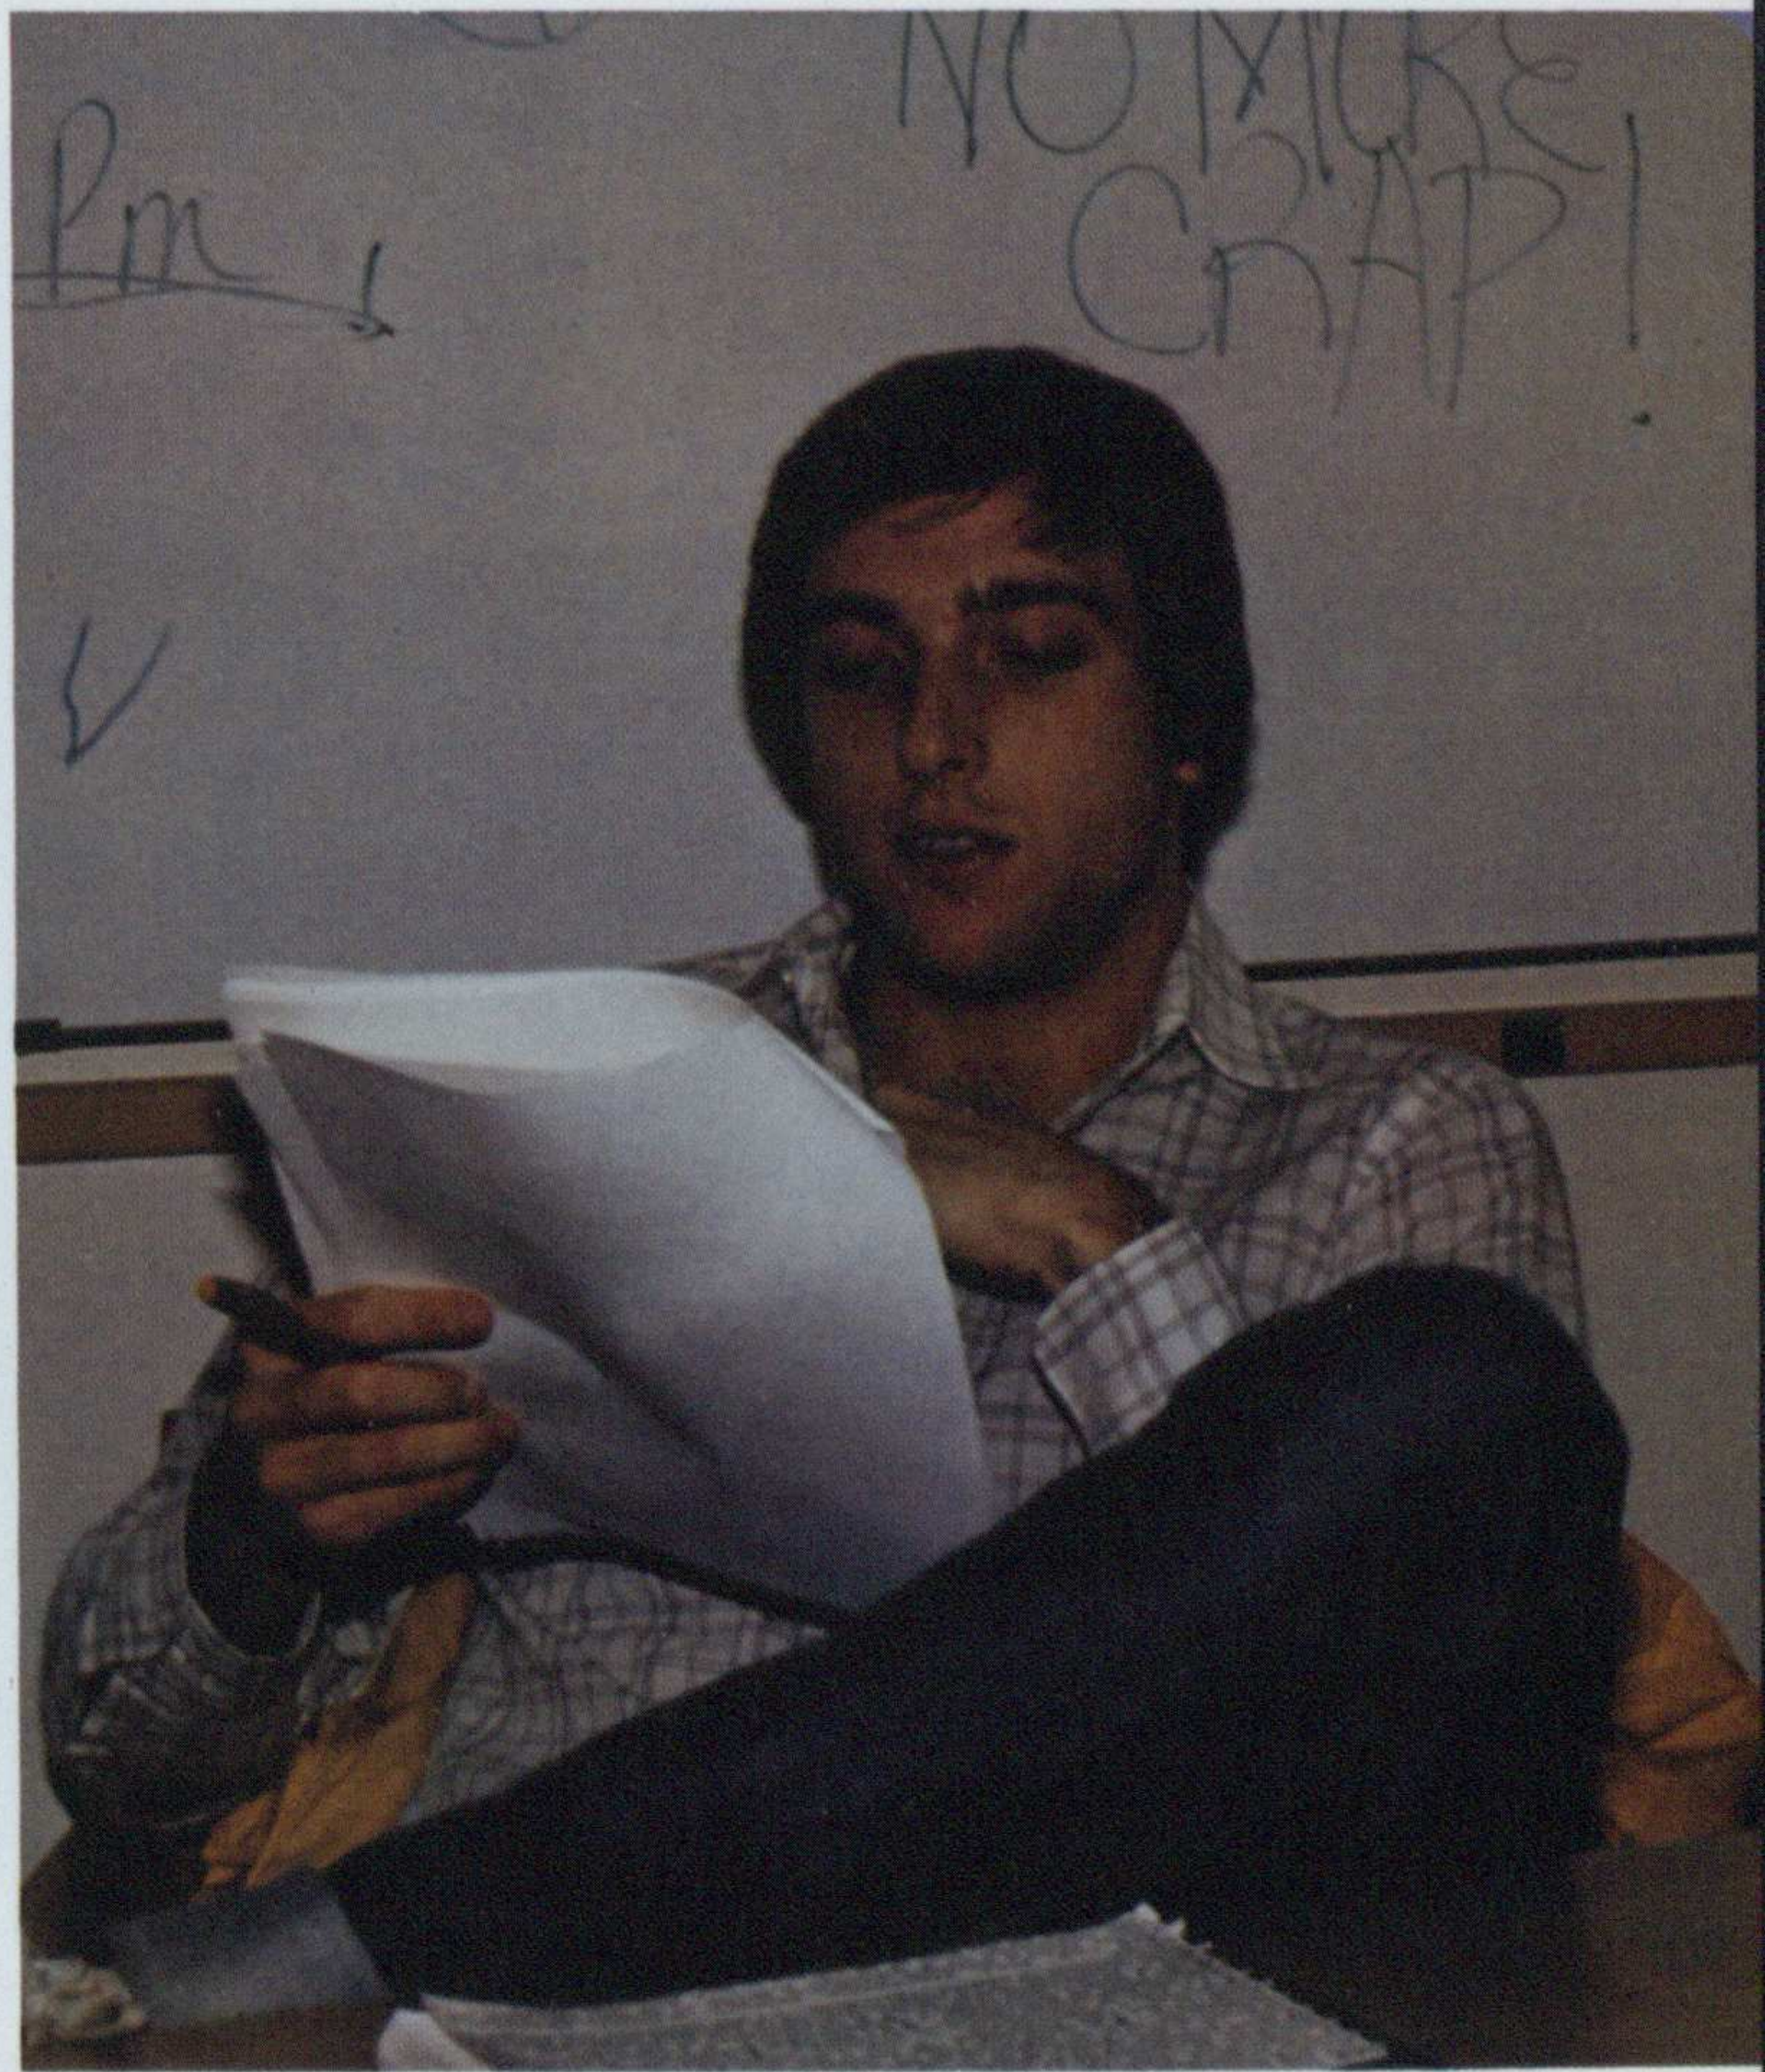

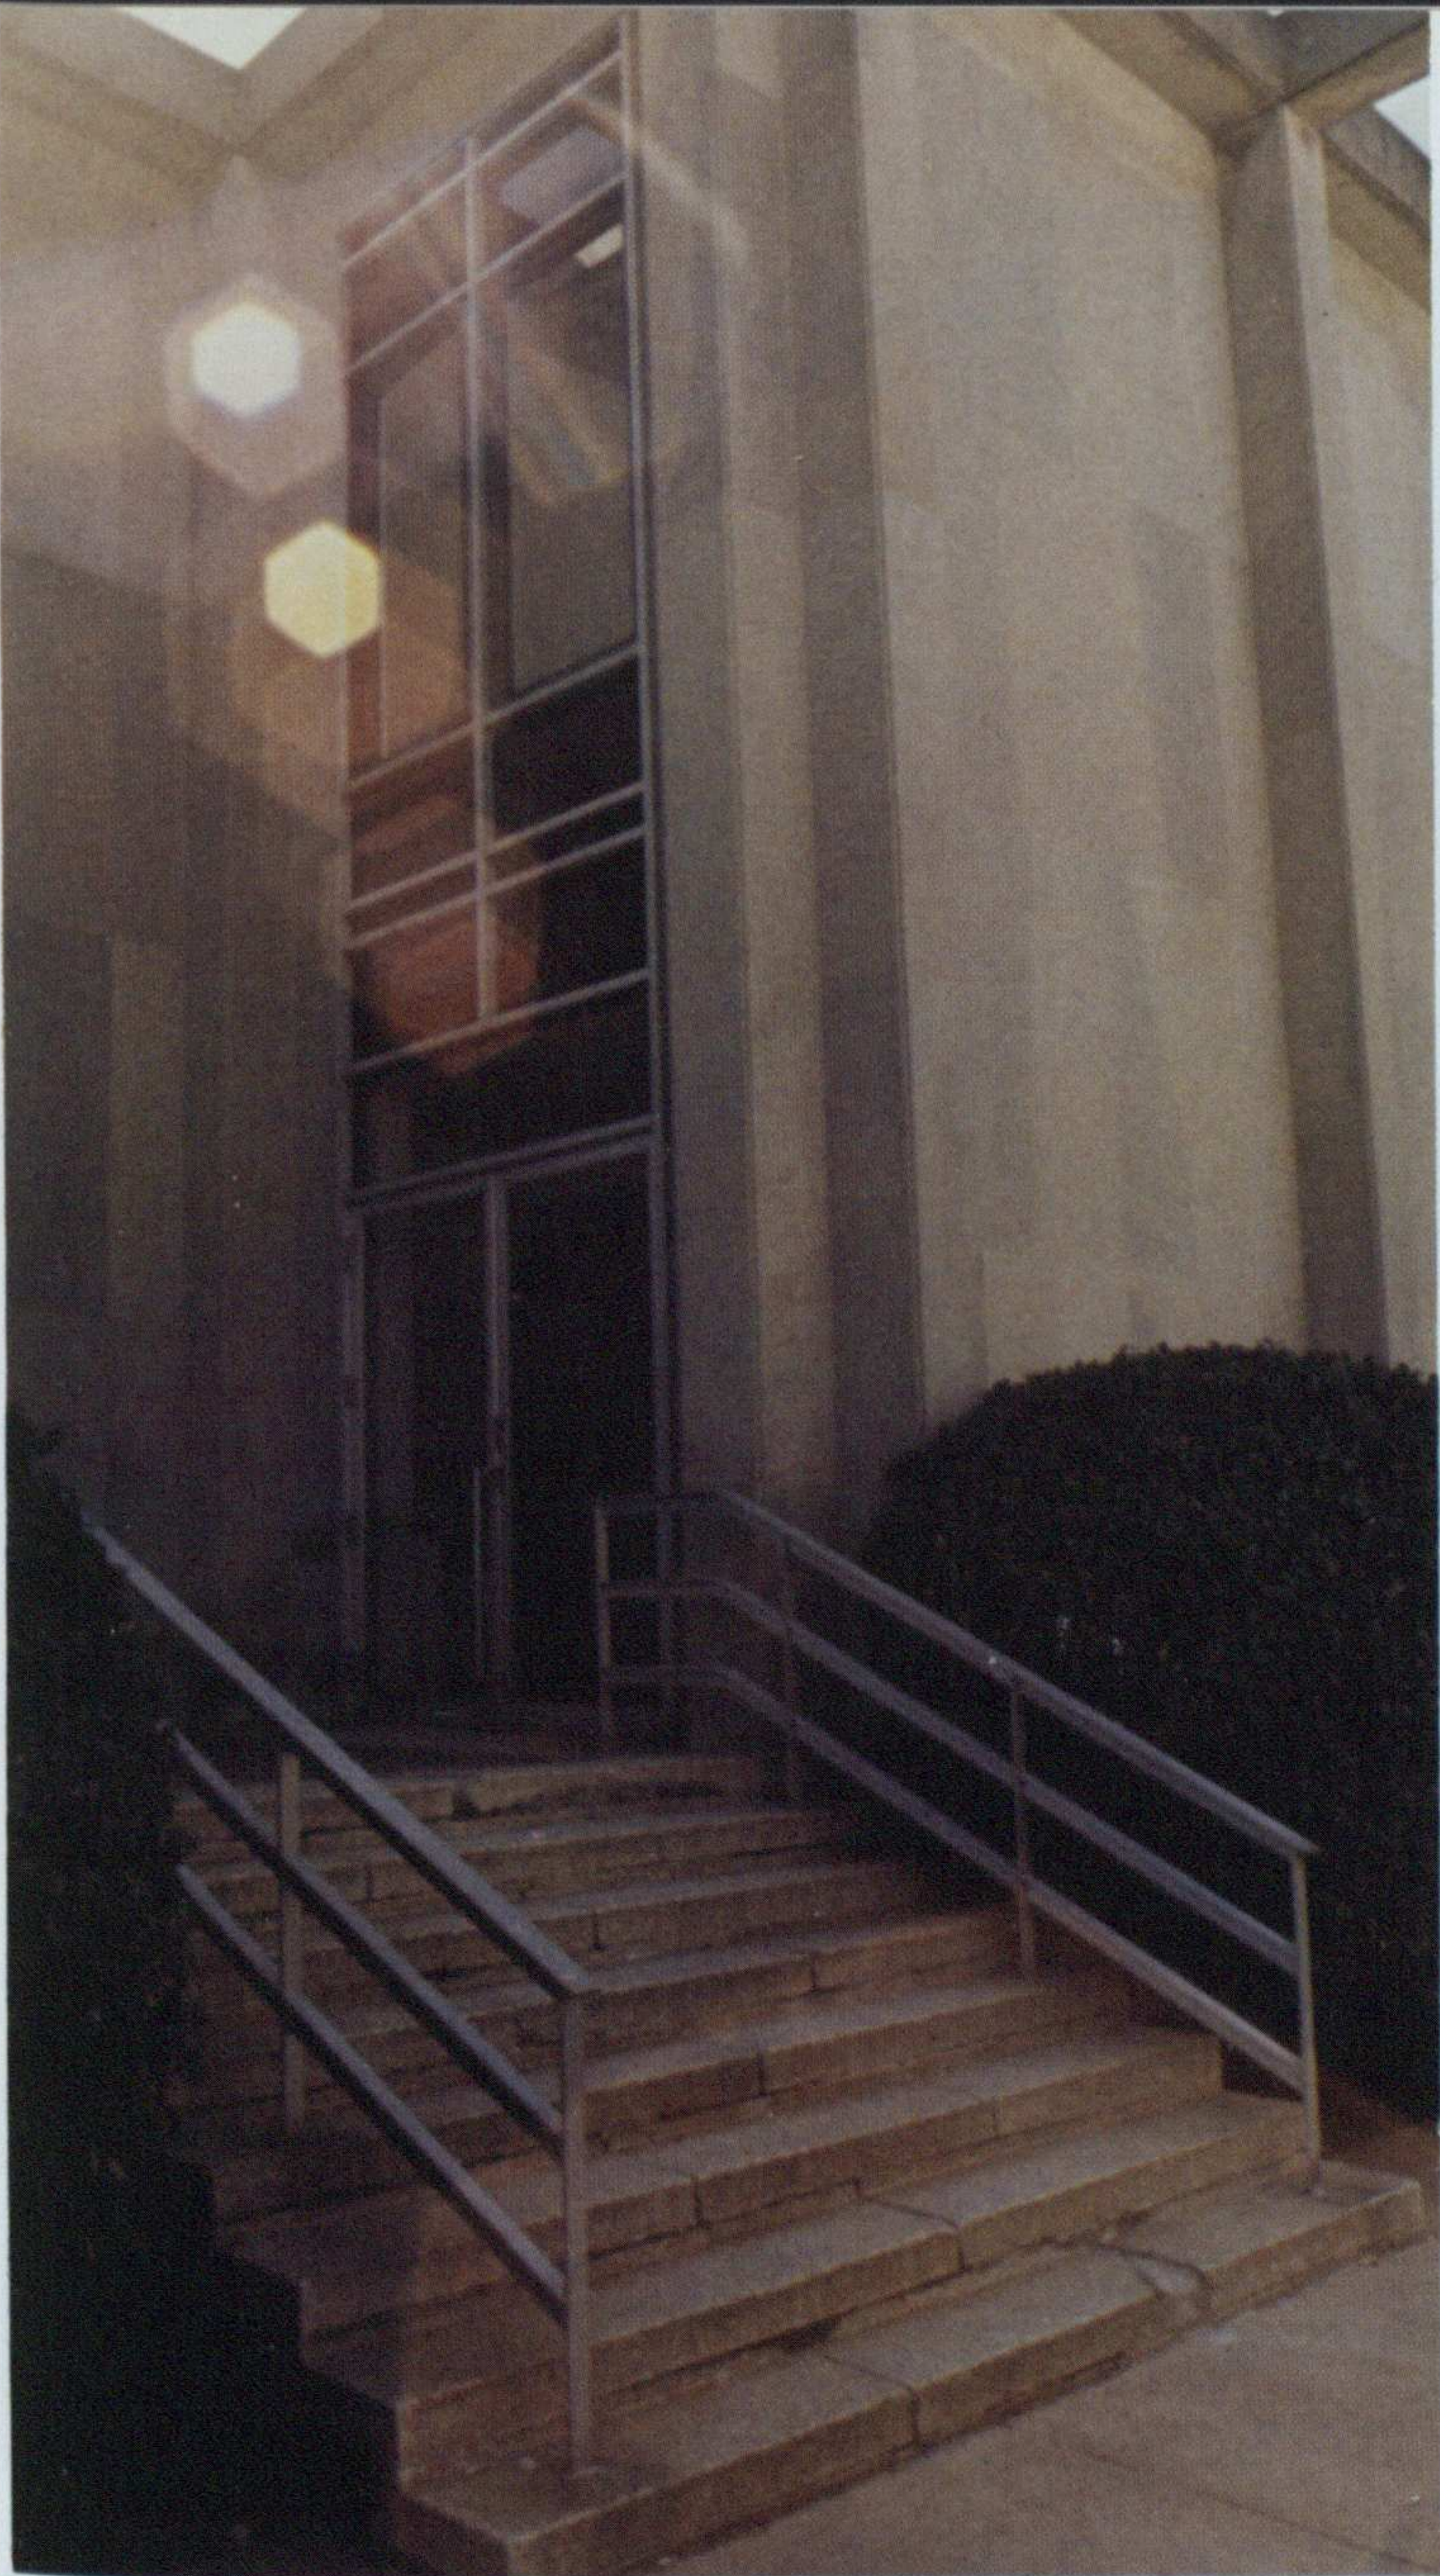

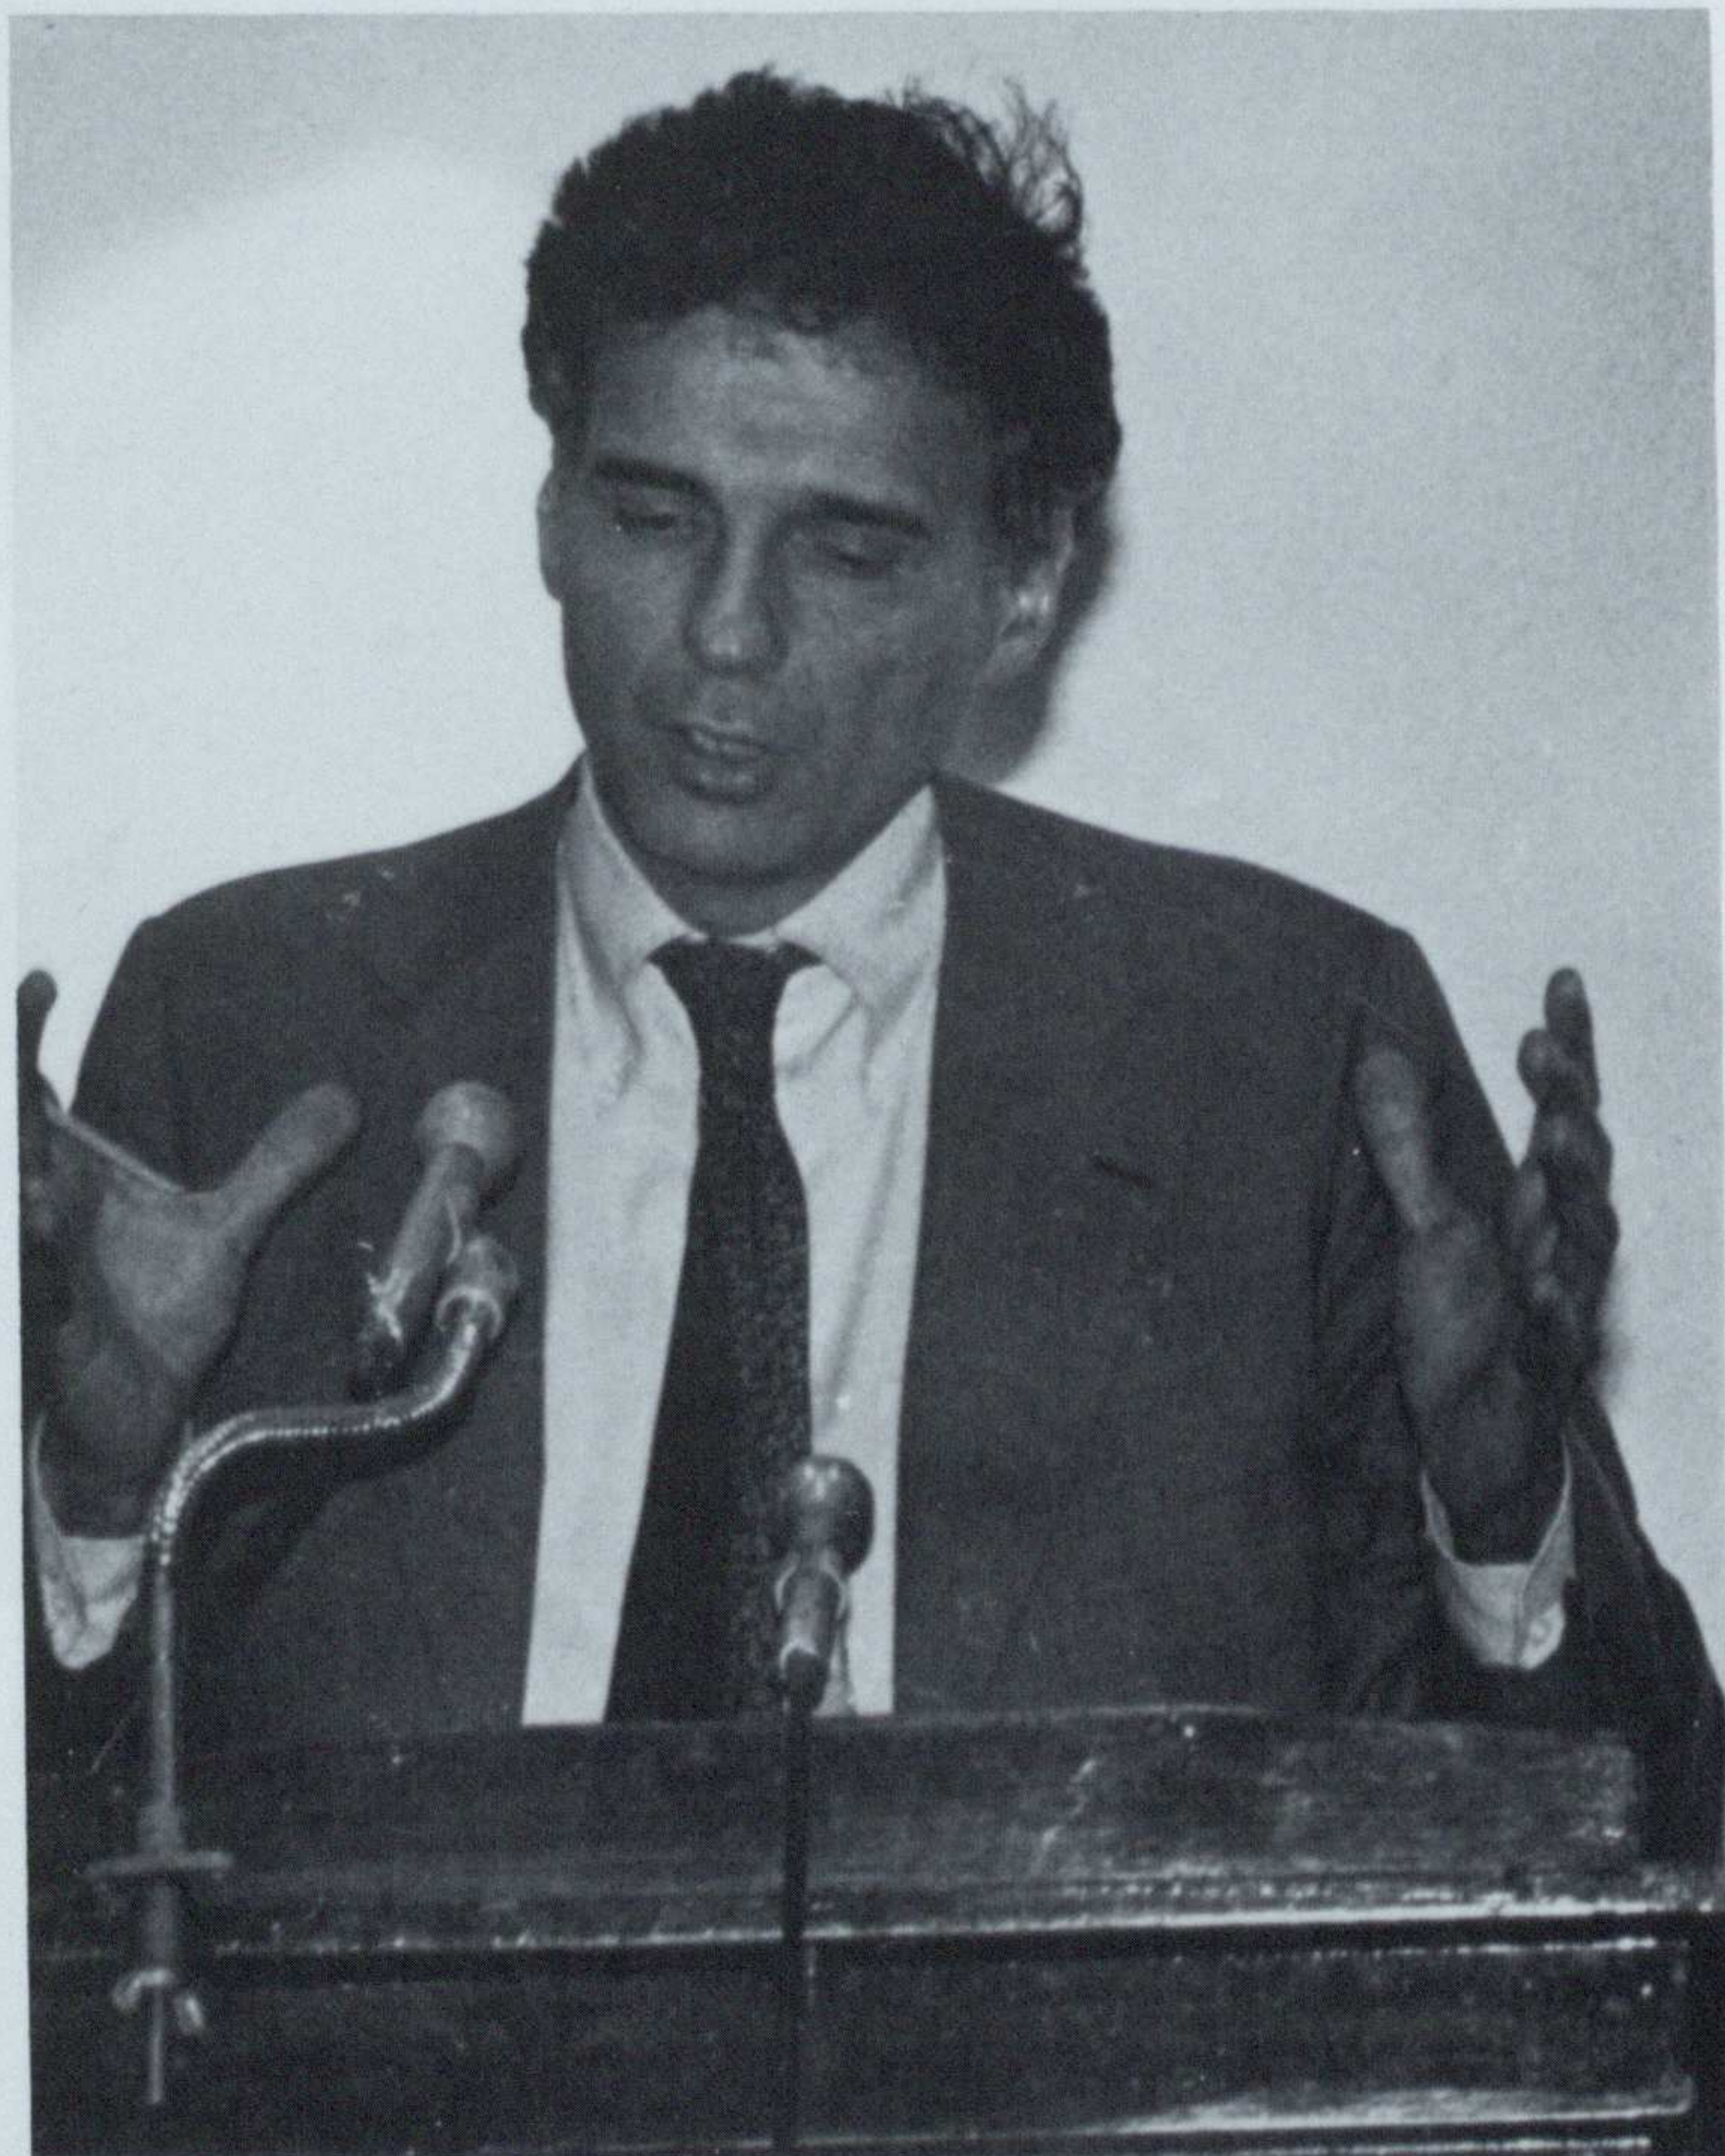

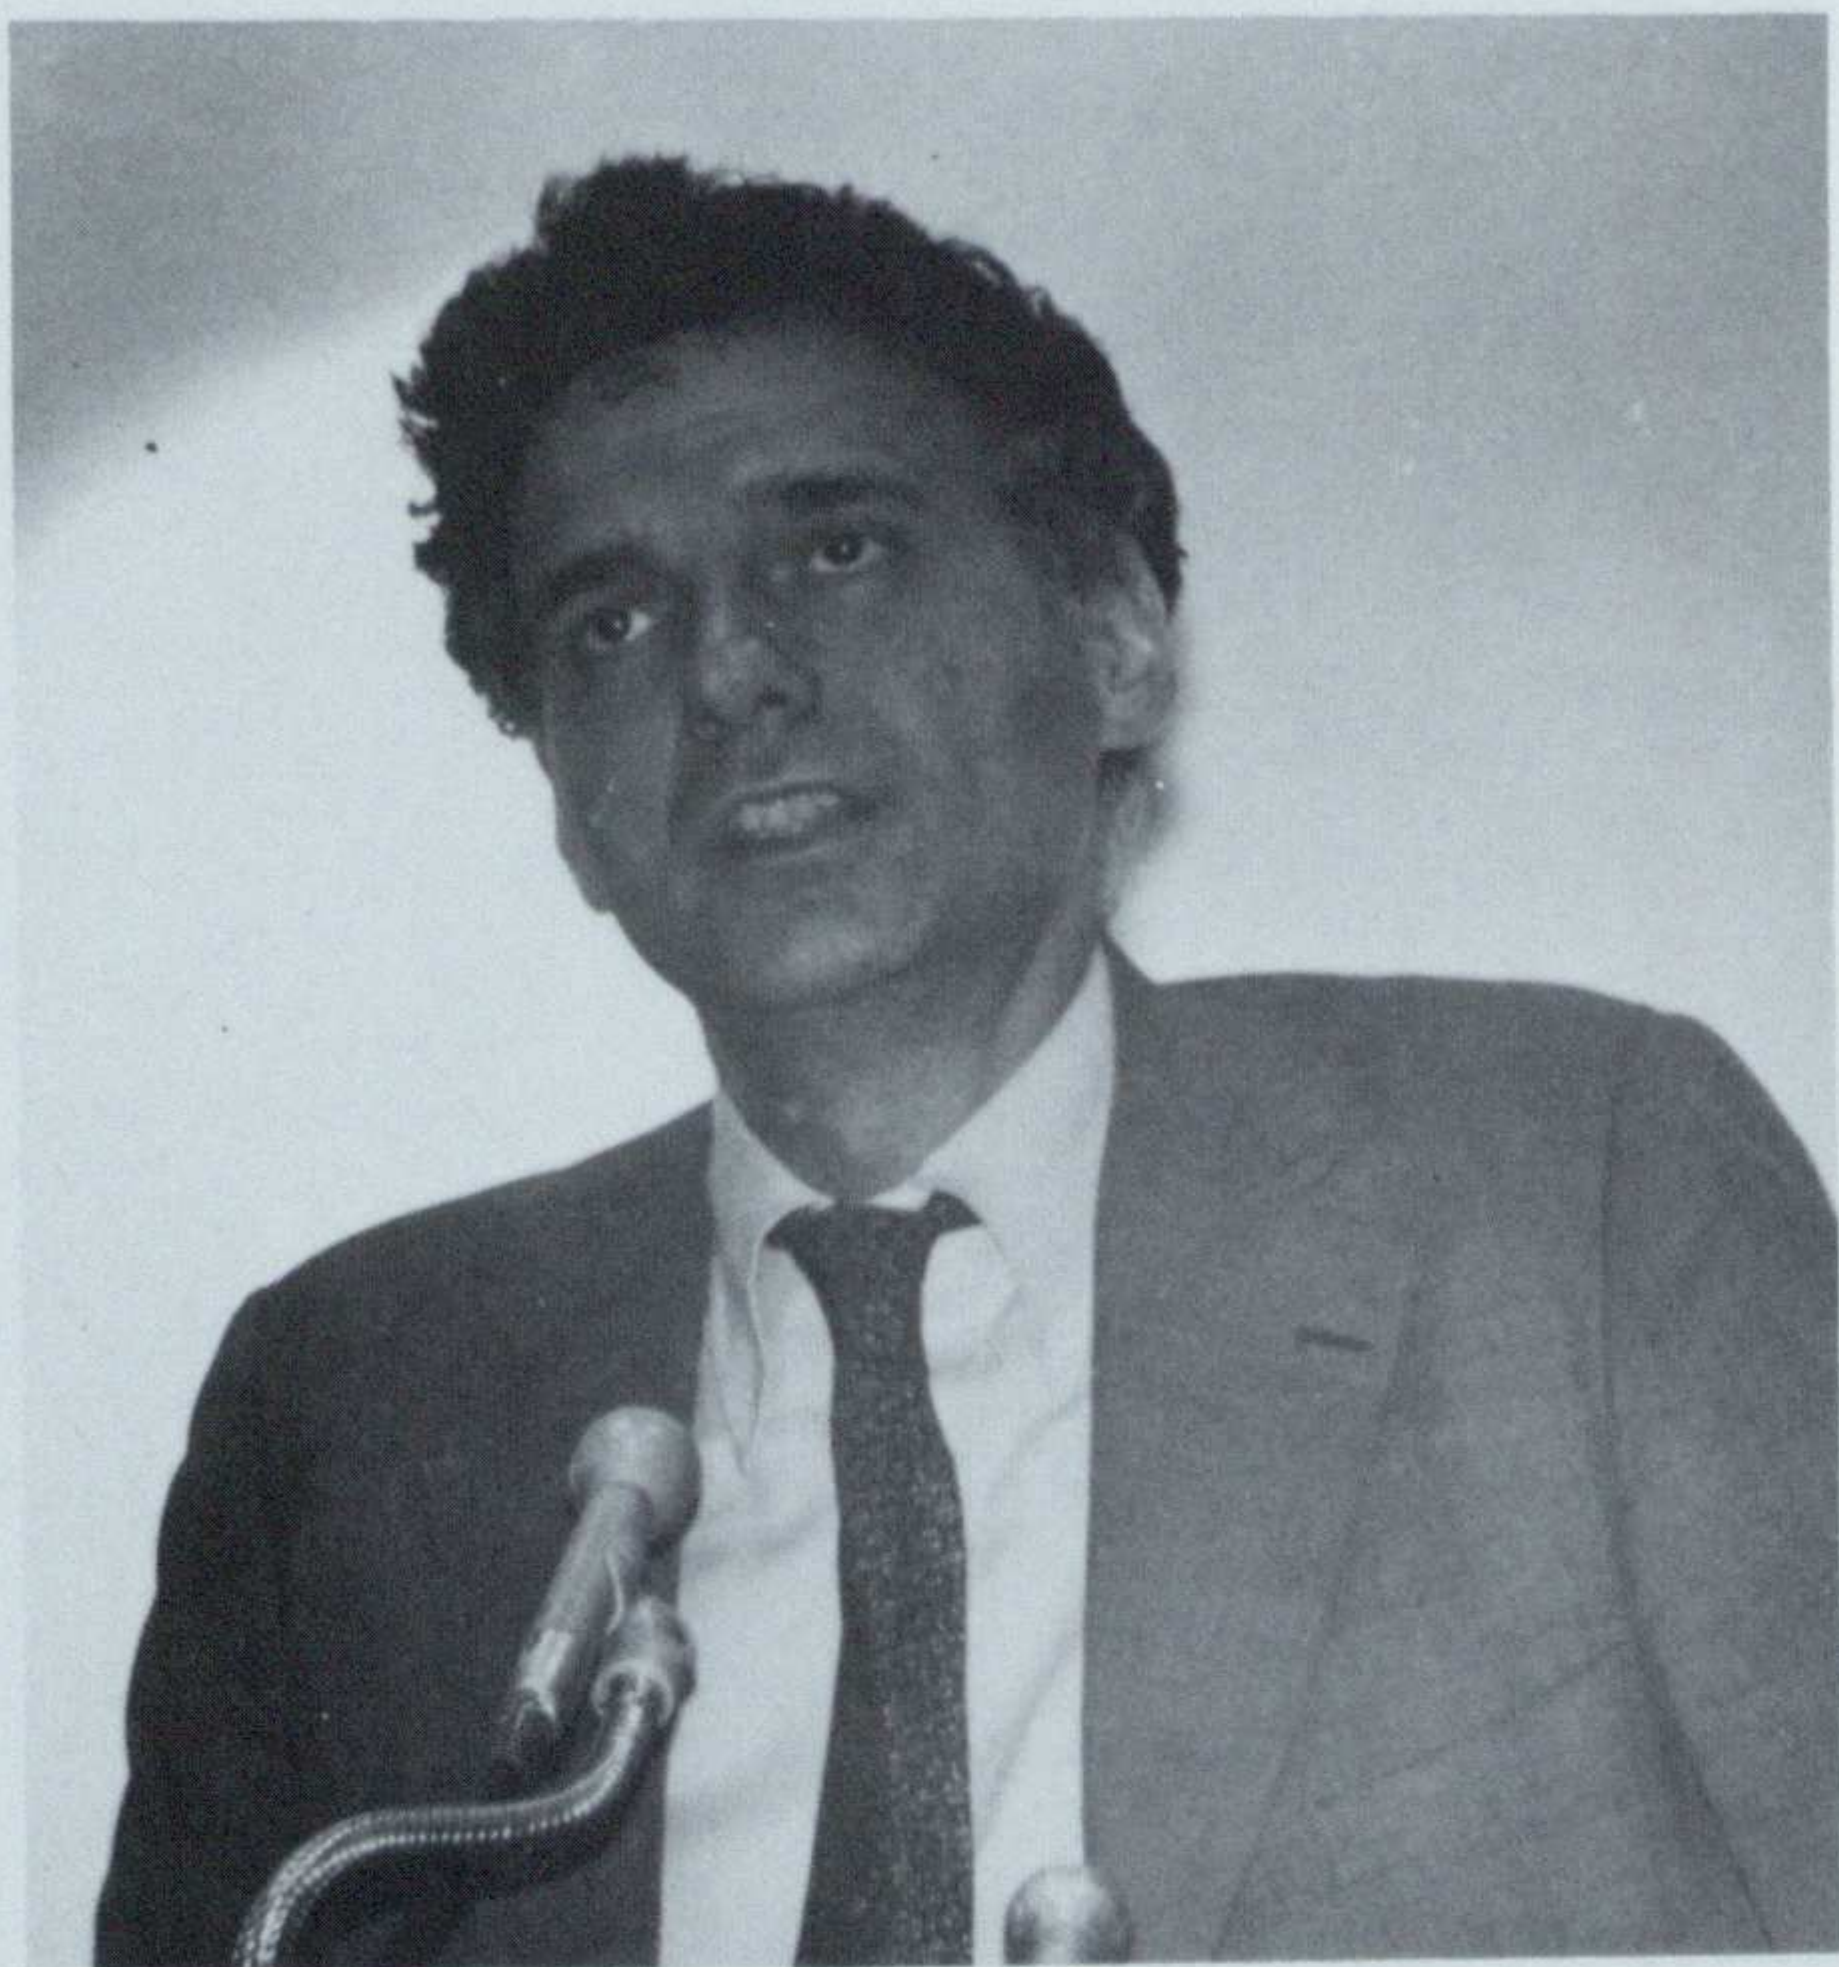

Thomas Buergenthal
Dean

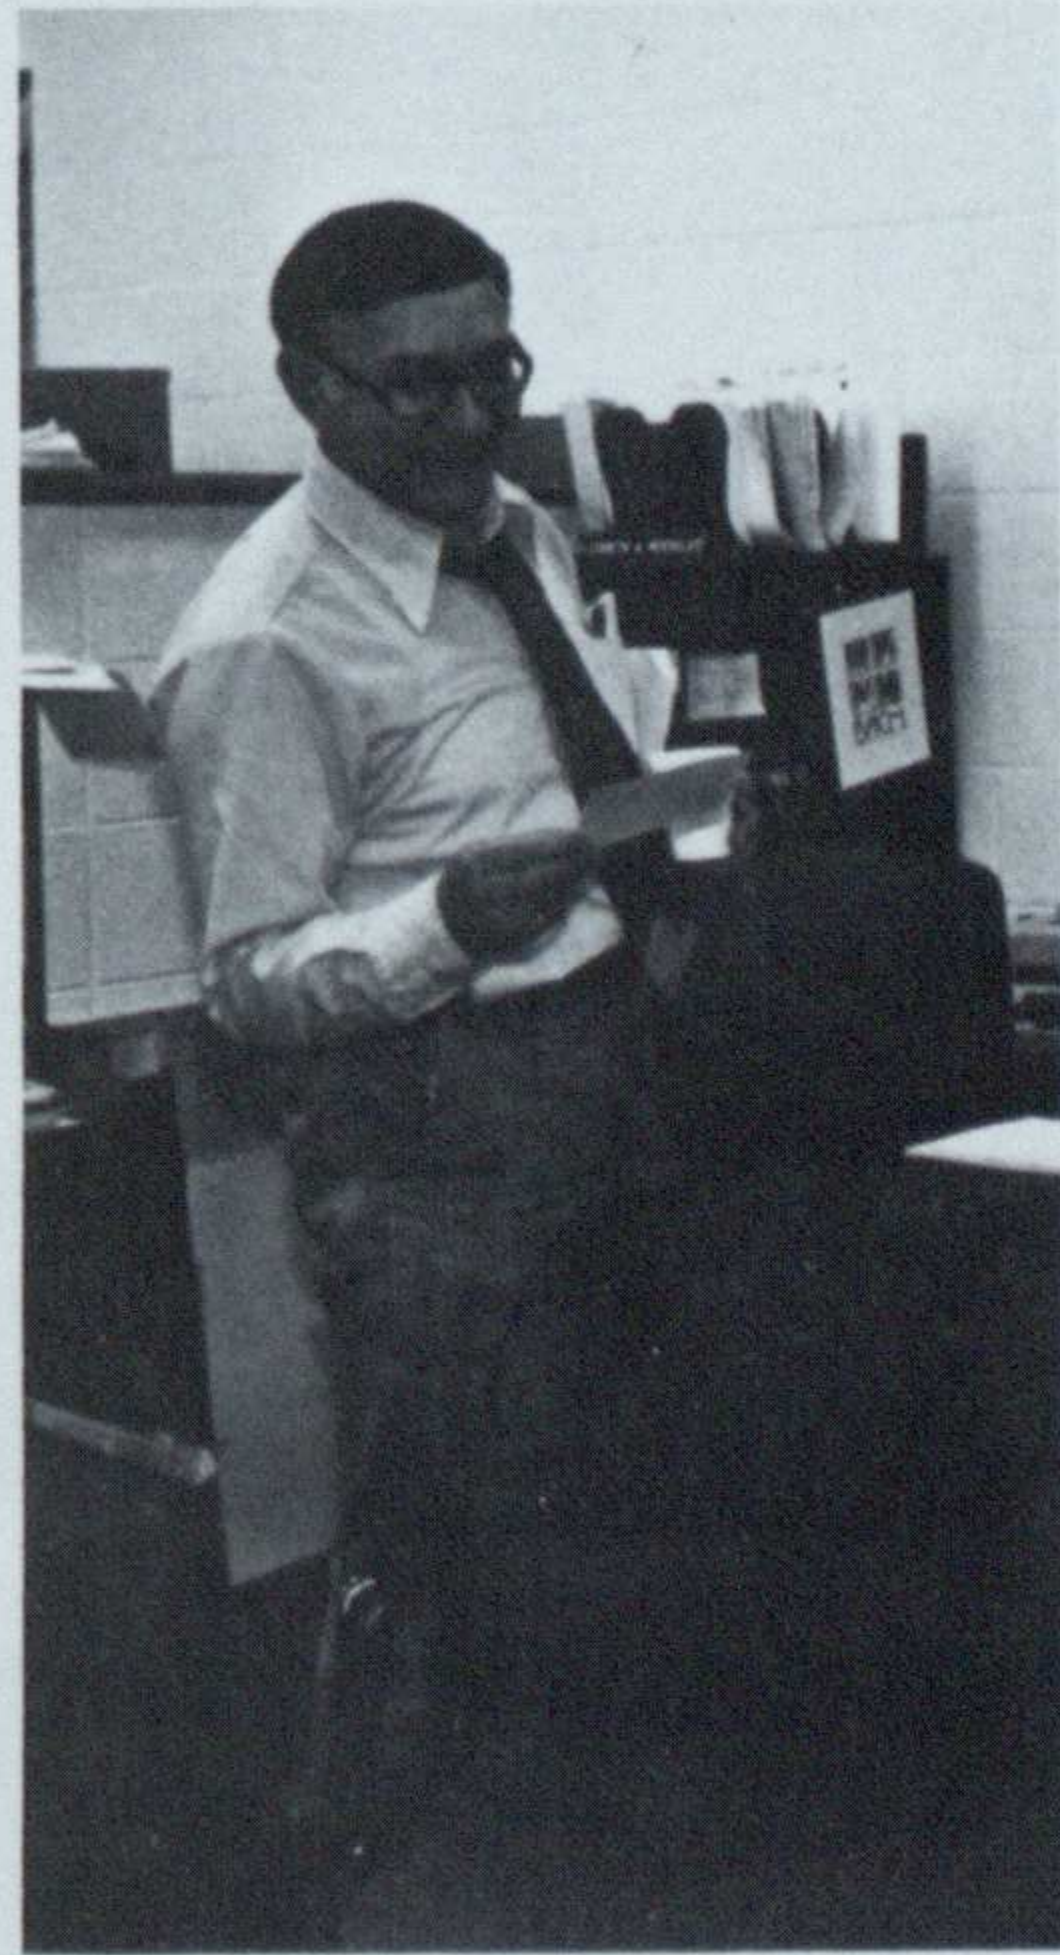

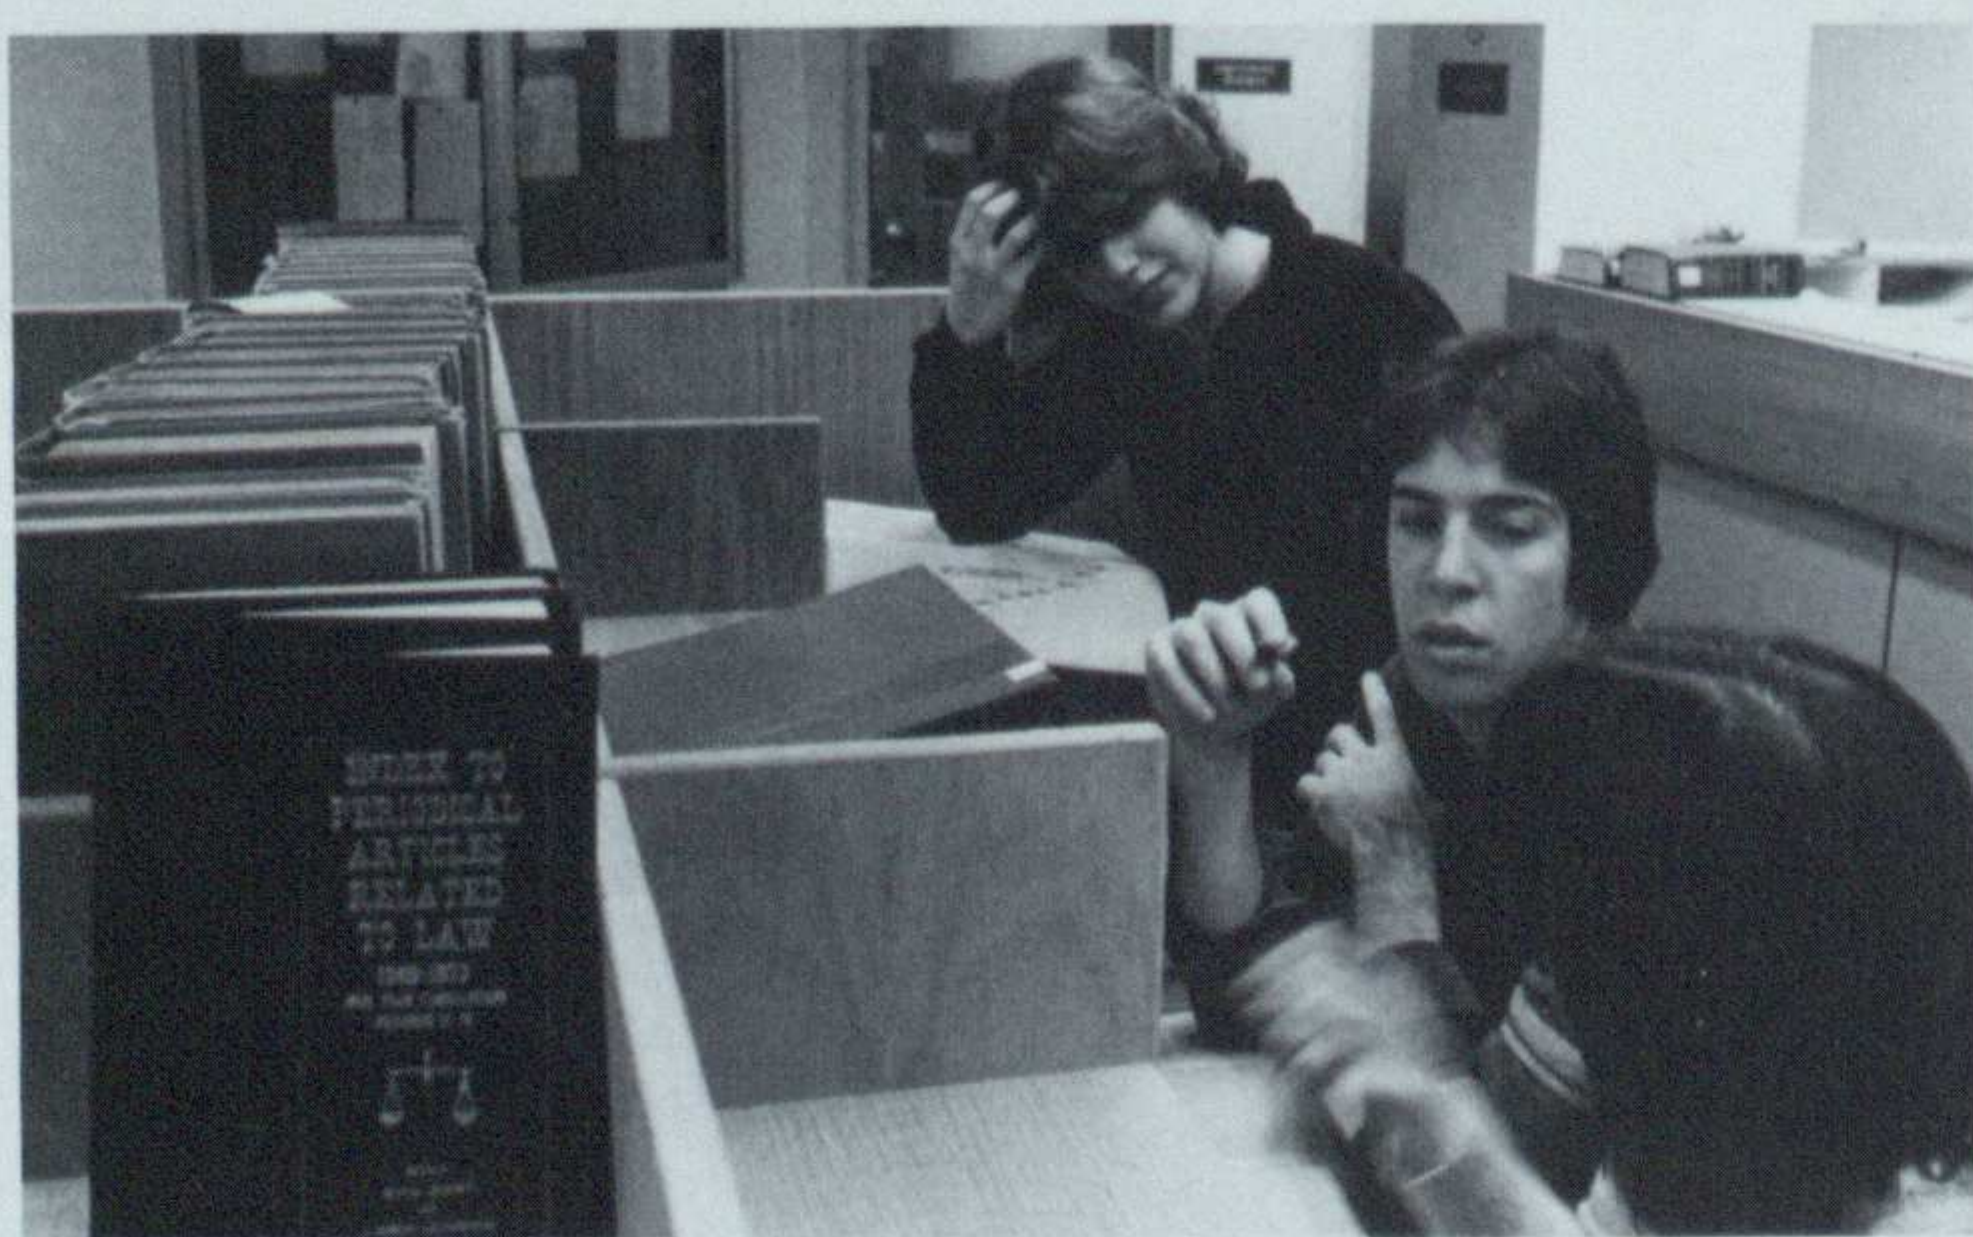

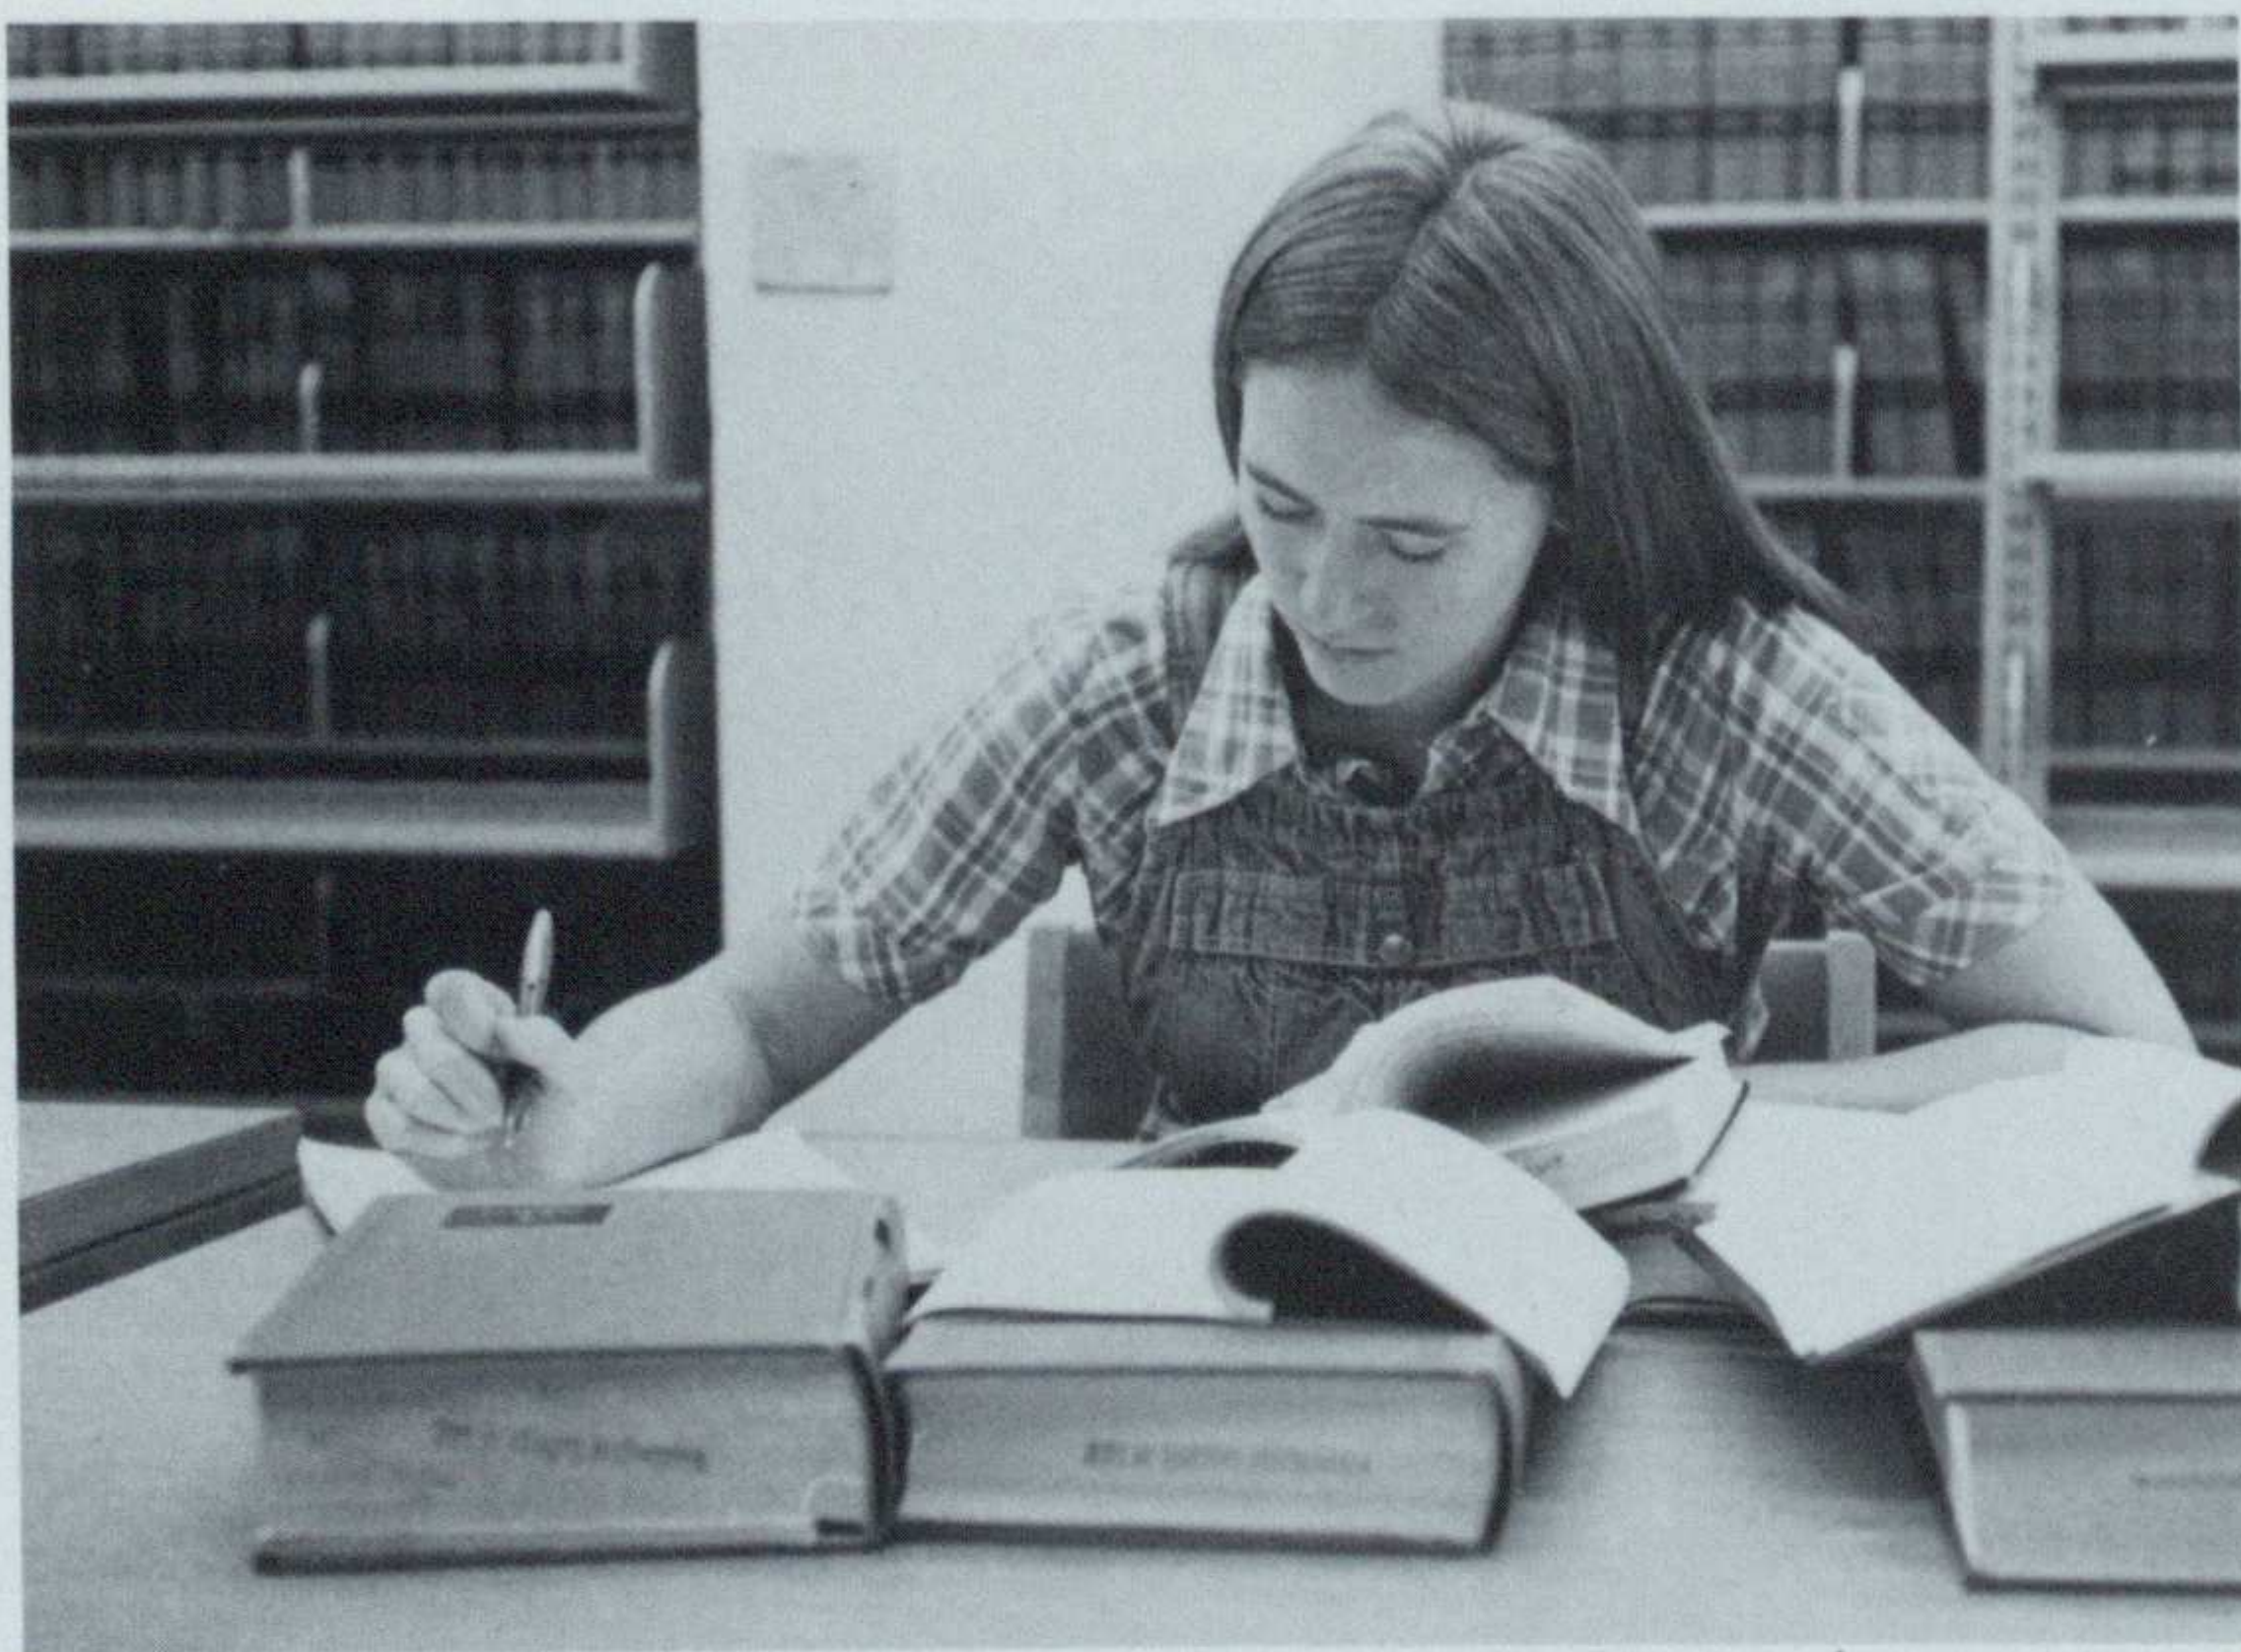

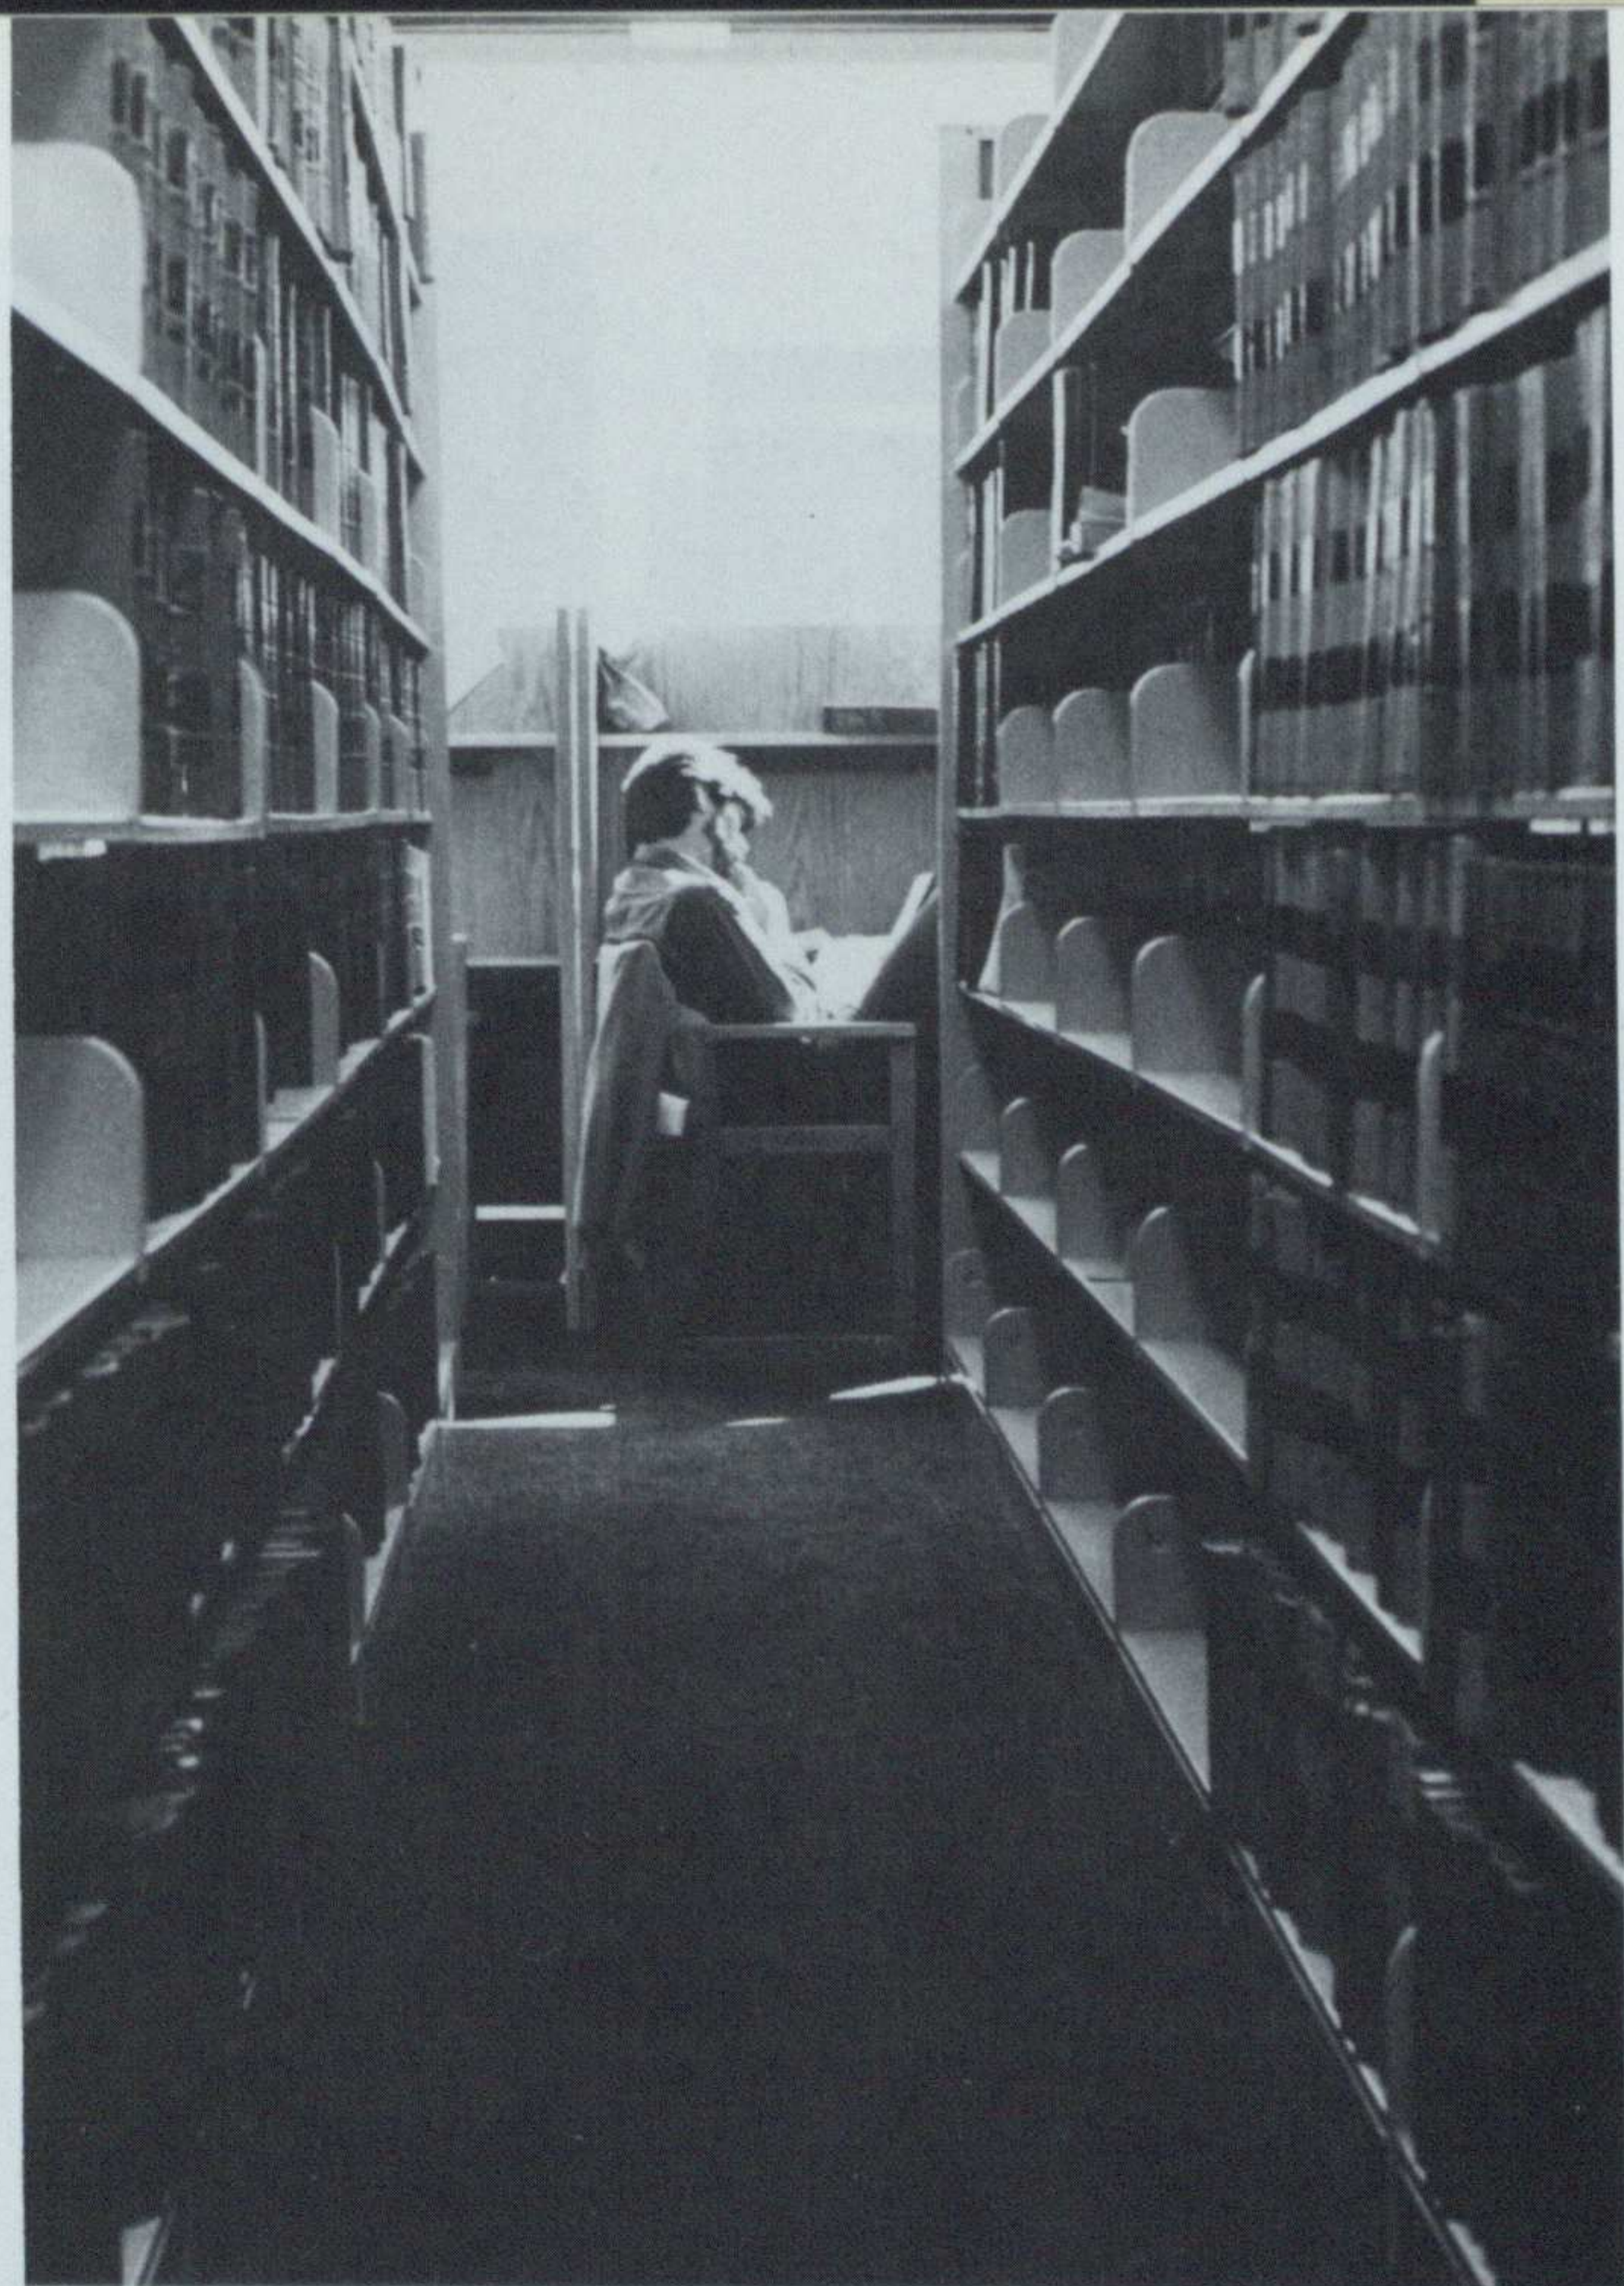

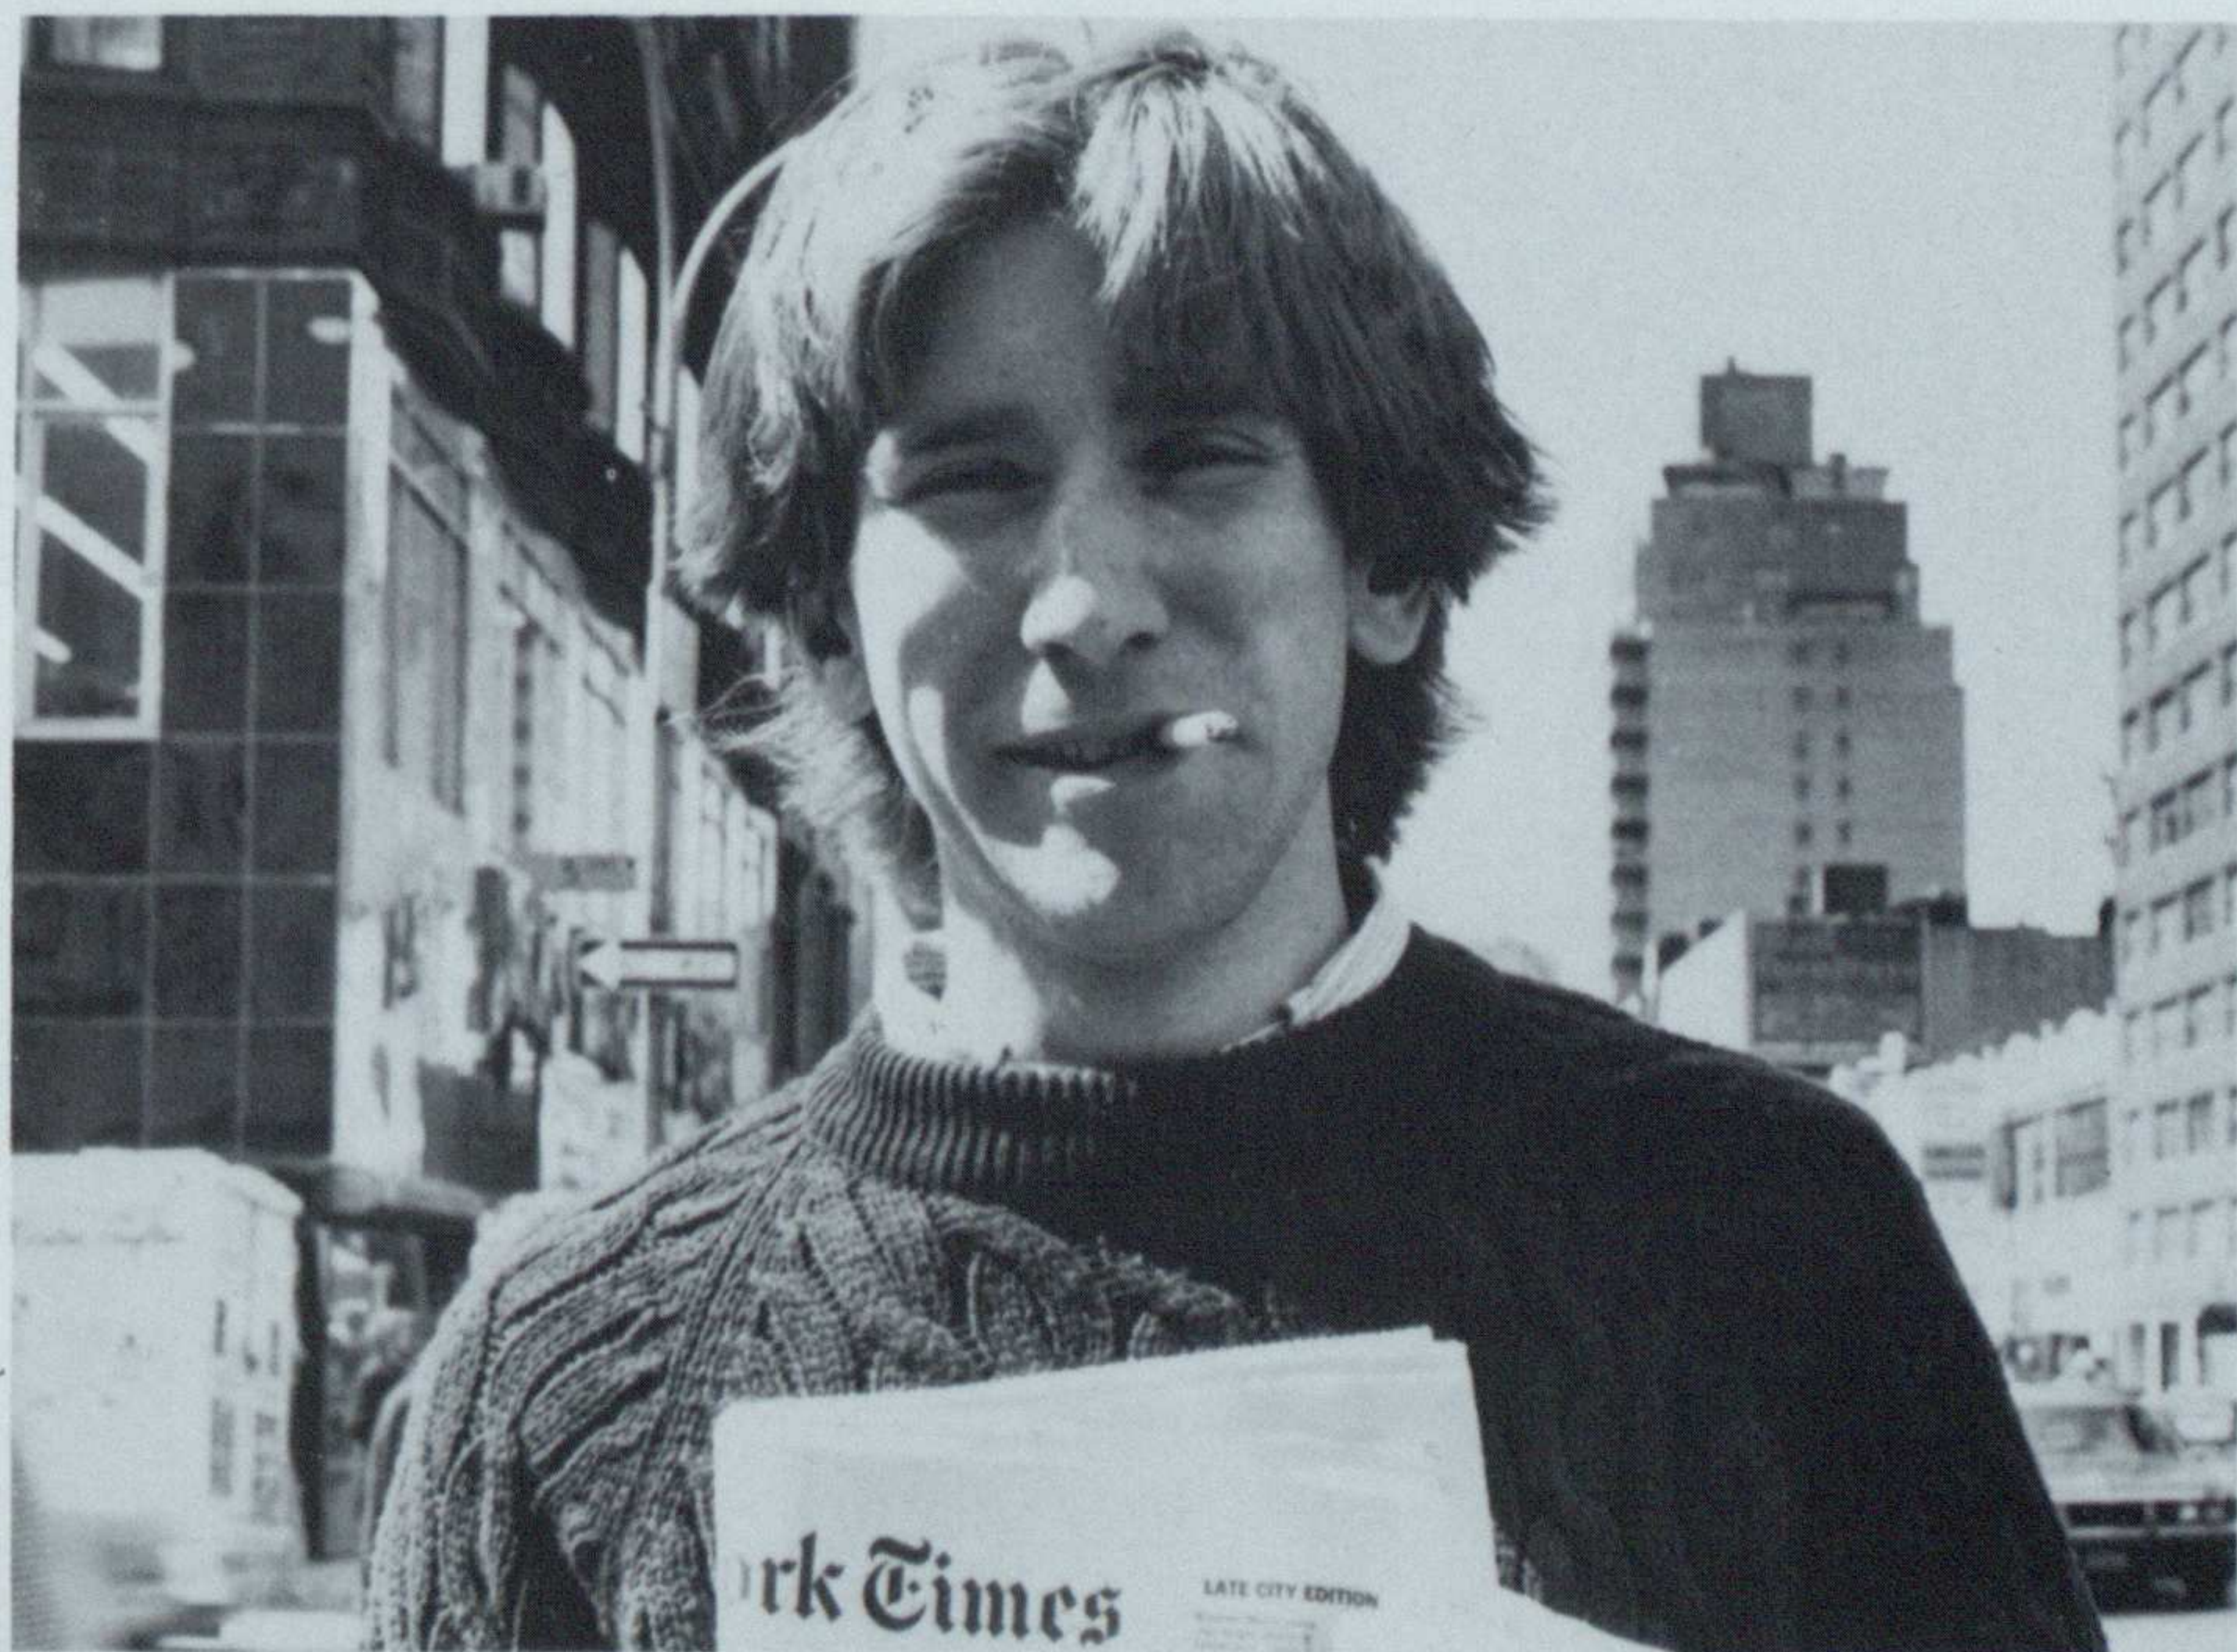

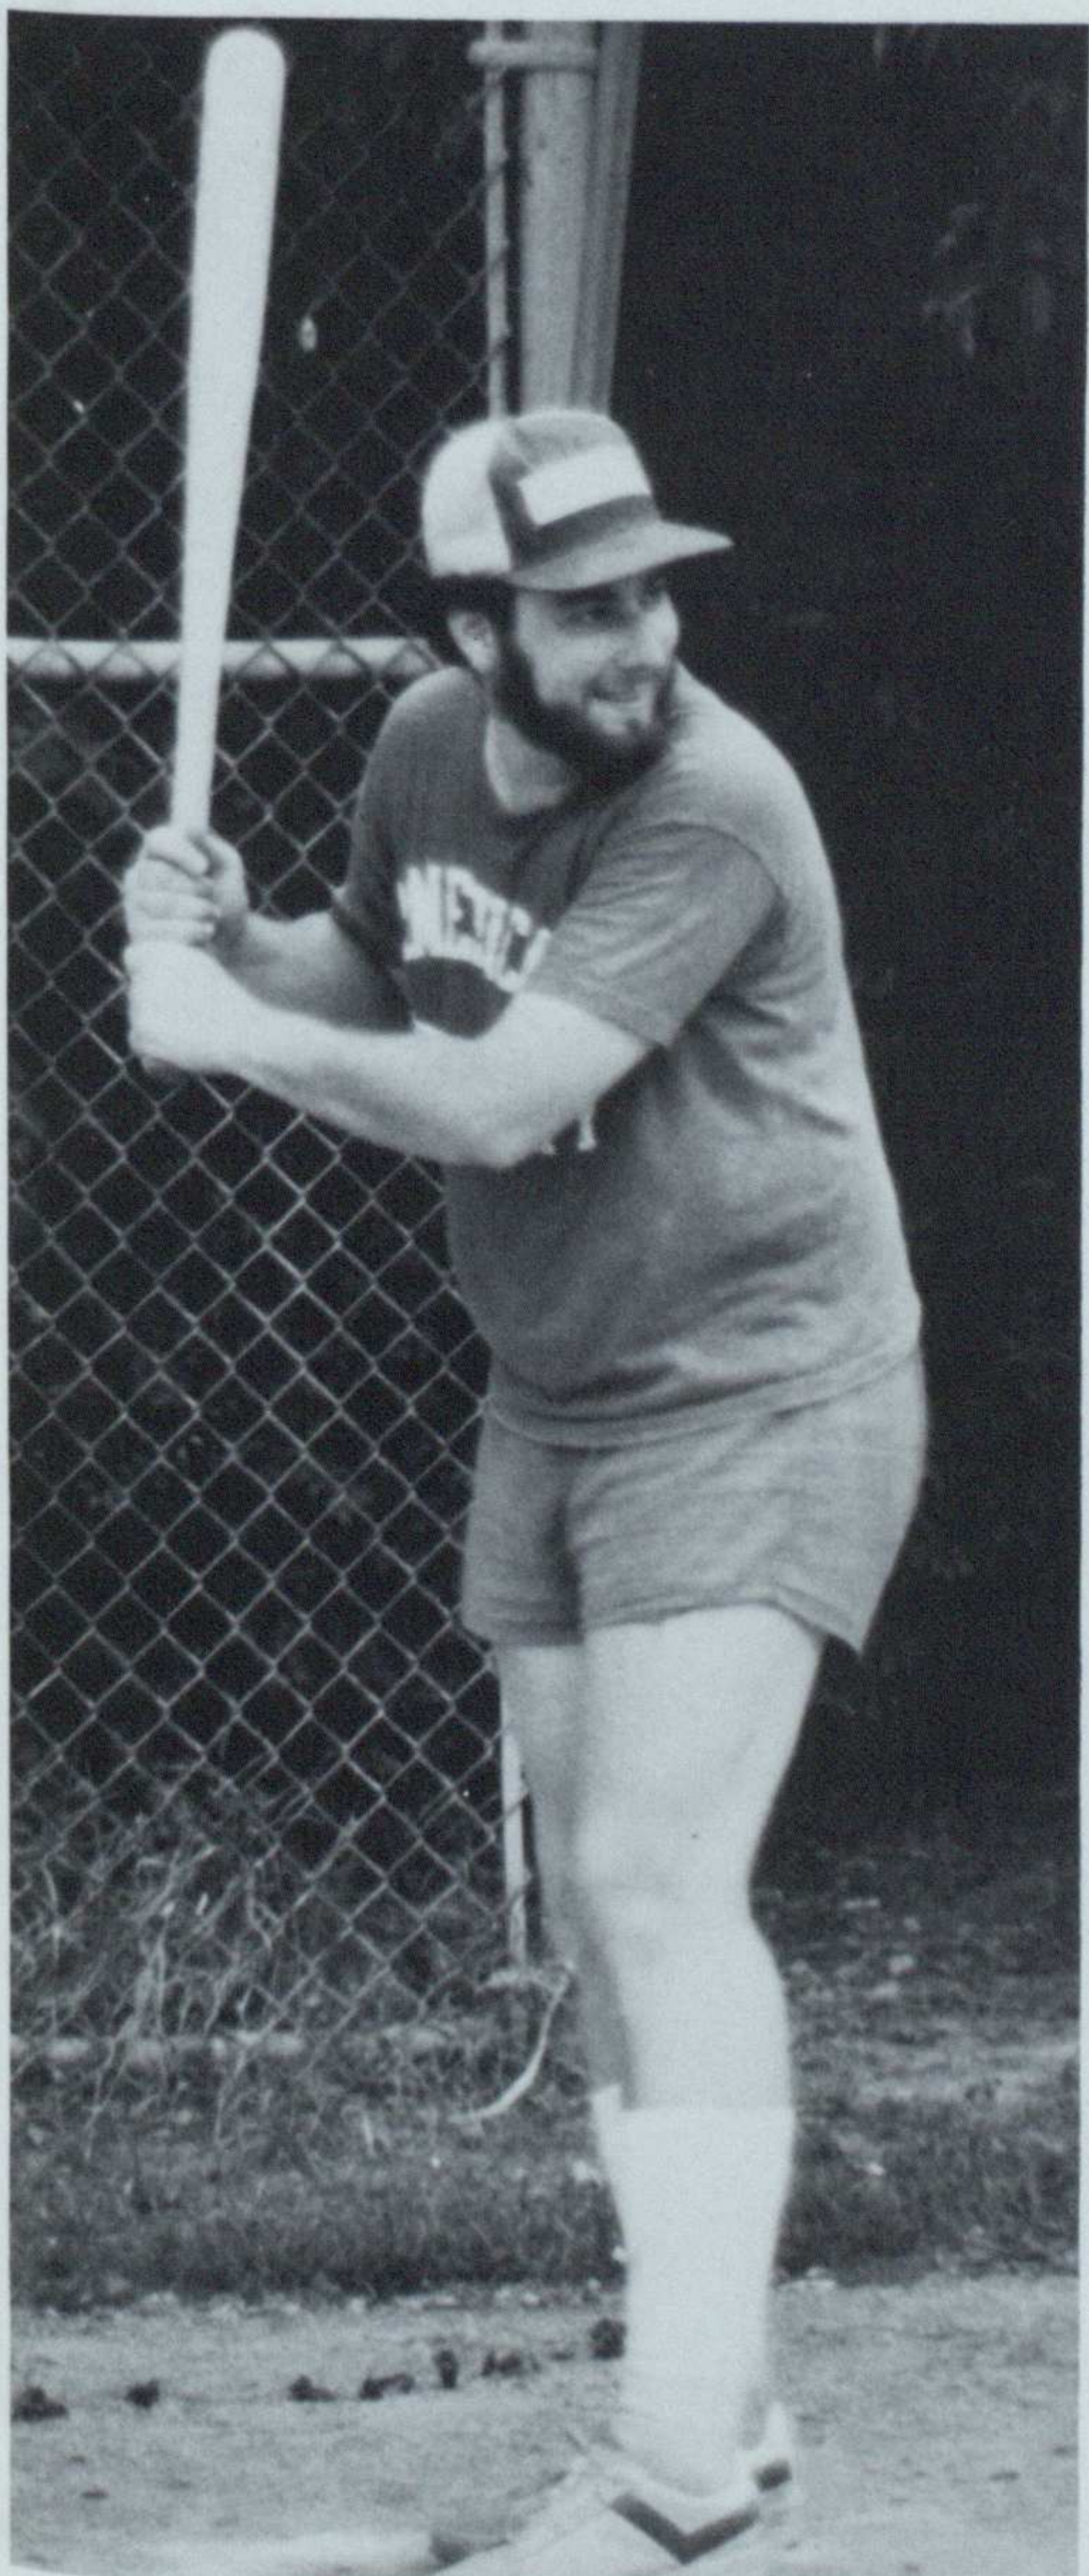

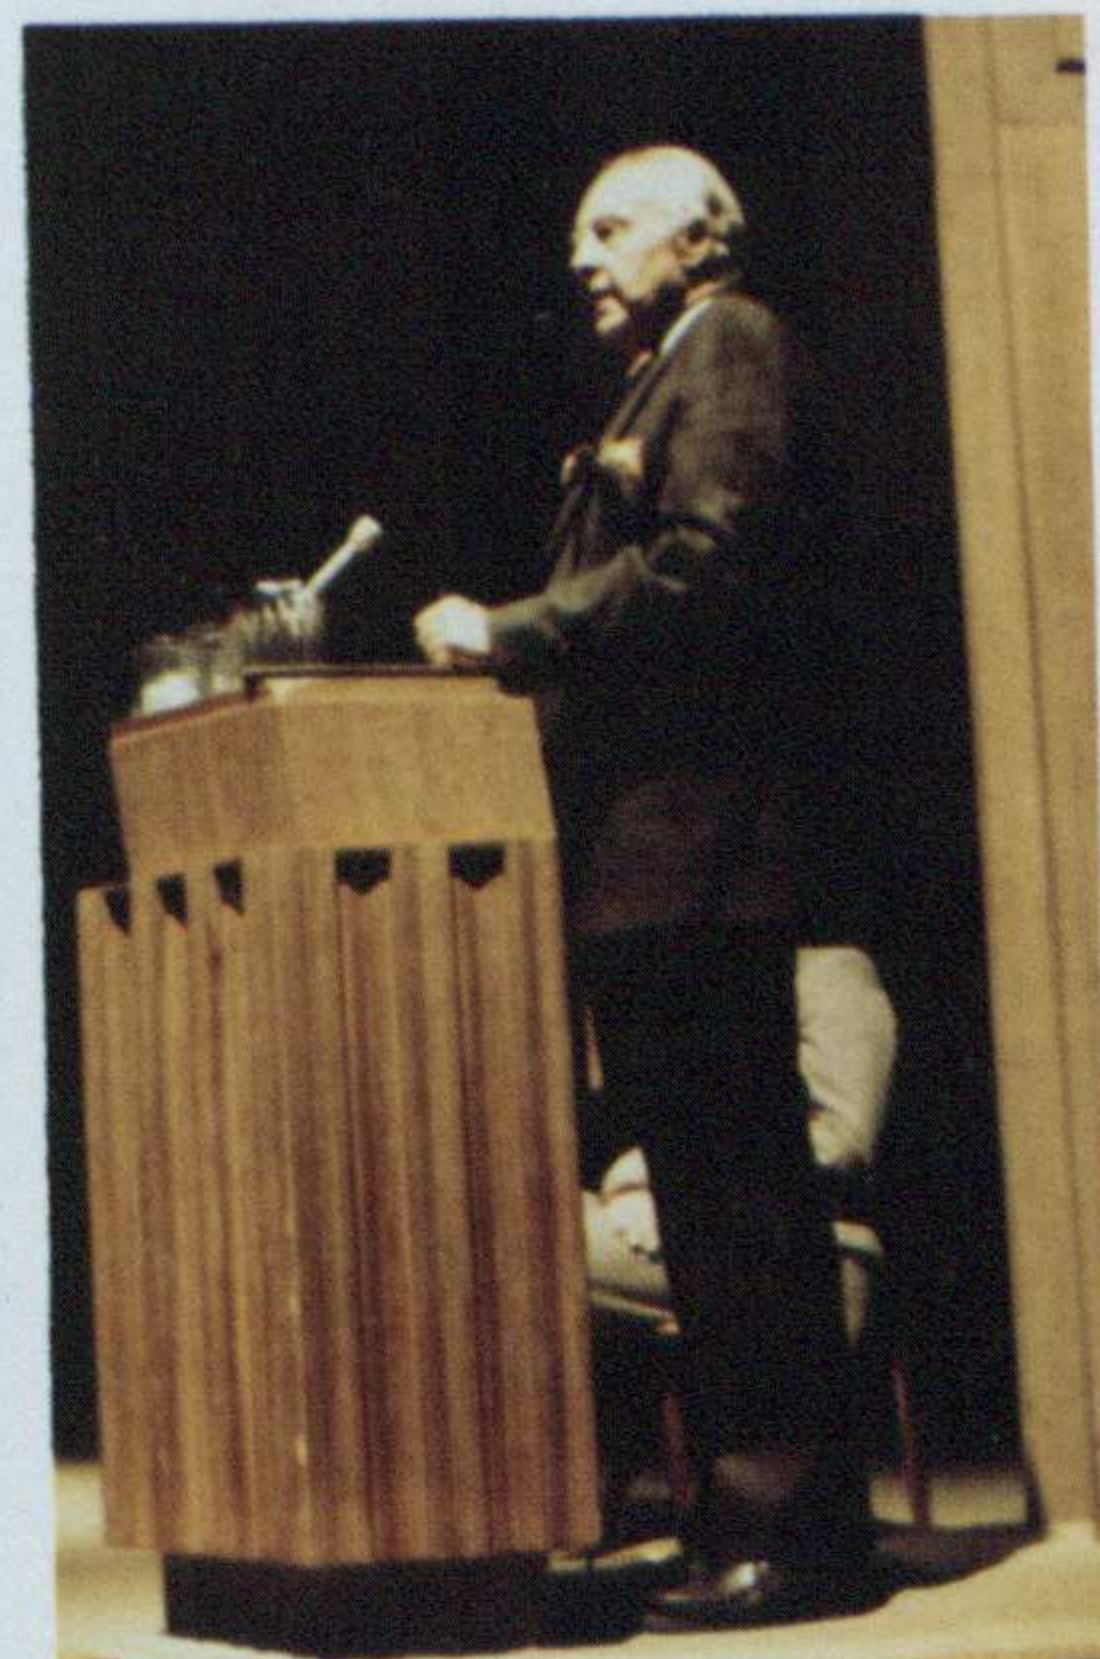

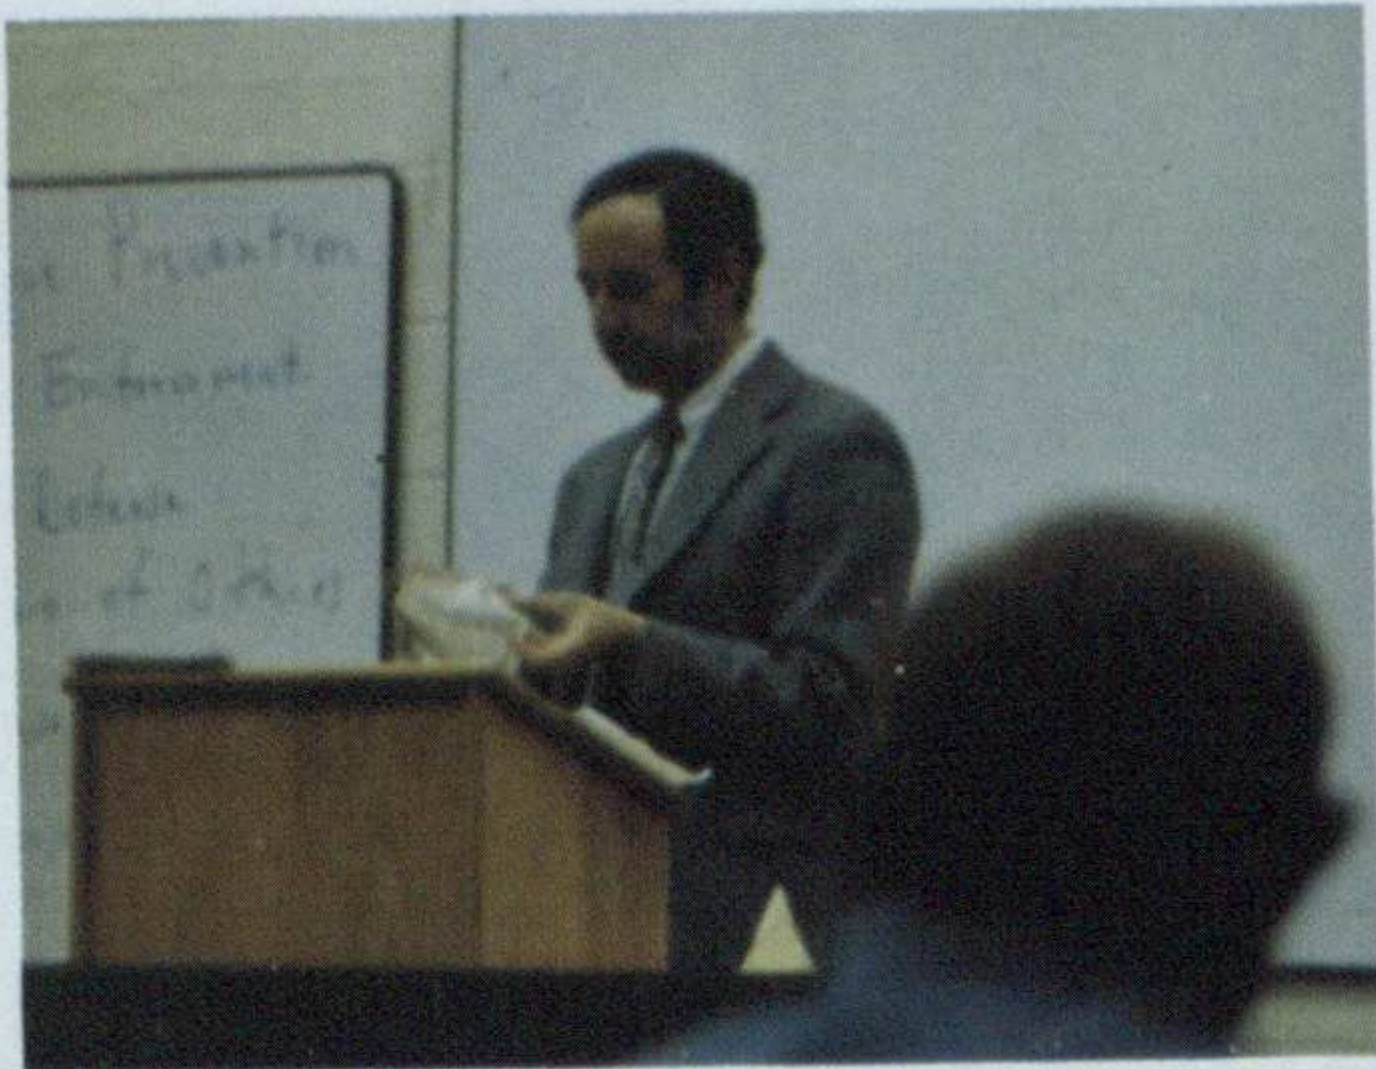

THE YEARBOOK

This yearbook, WCL's first since 1942, represents the hard work of but a handful of diligent people. It also has been made possible by the continued support of the administration of the Law School and the Student Bar Association.

A yearbook, of course, is meant to be a tool through which one can look back on his or her years here at WCL in order to remember the good times, the Picnics, Exams, Graduation . . . I have made every effort to make this yearbook fill that role, and I feel we have done just that. I hope you agree.

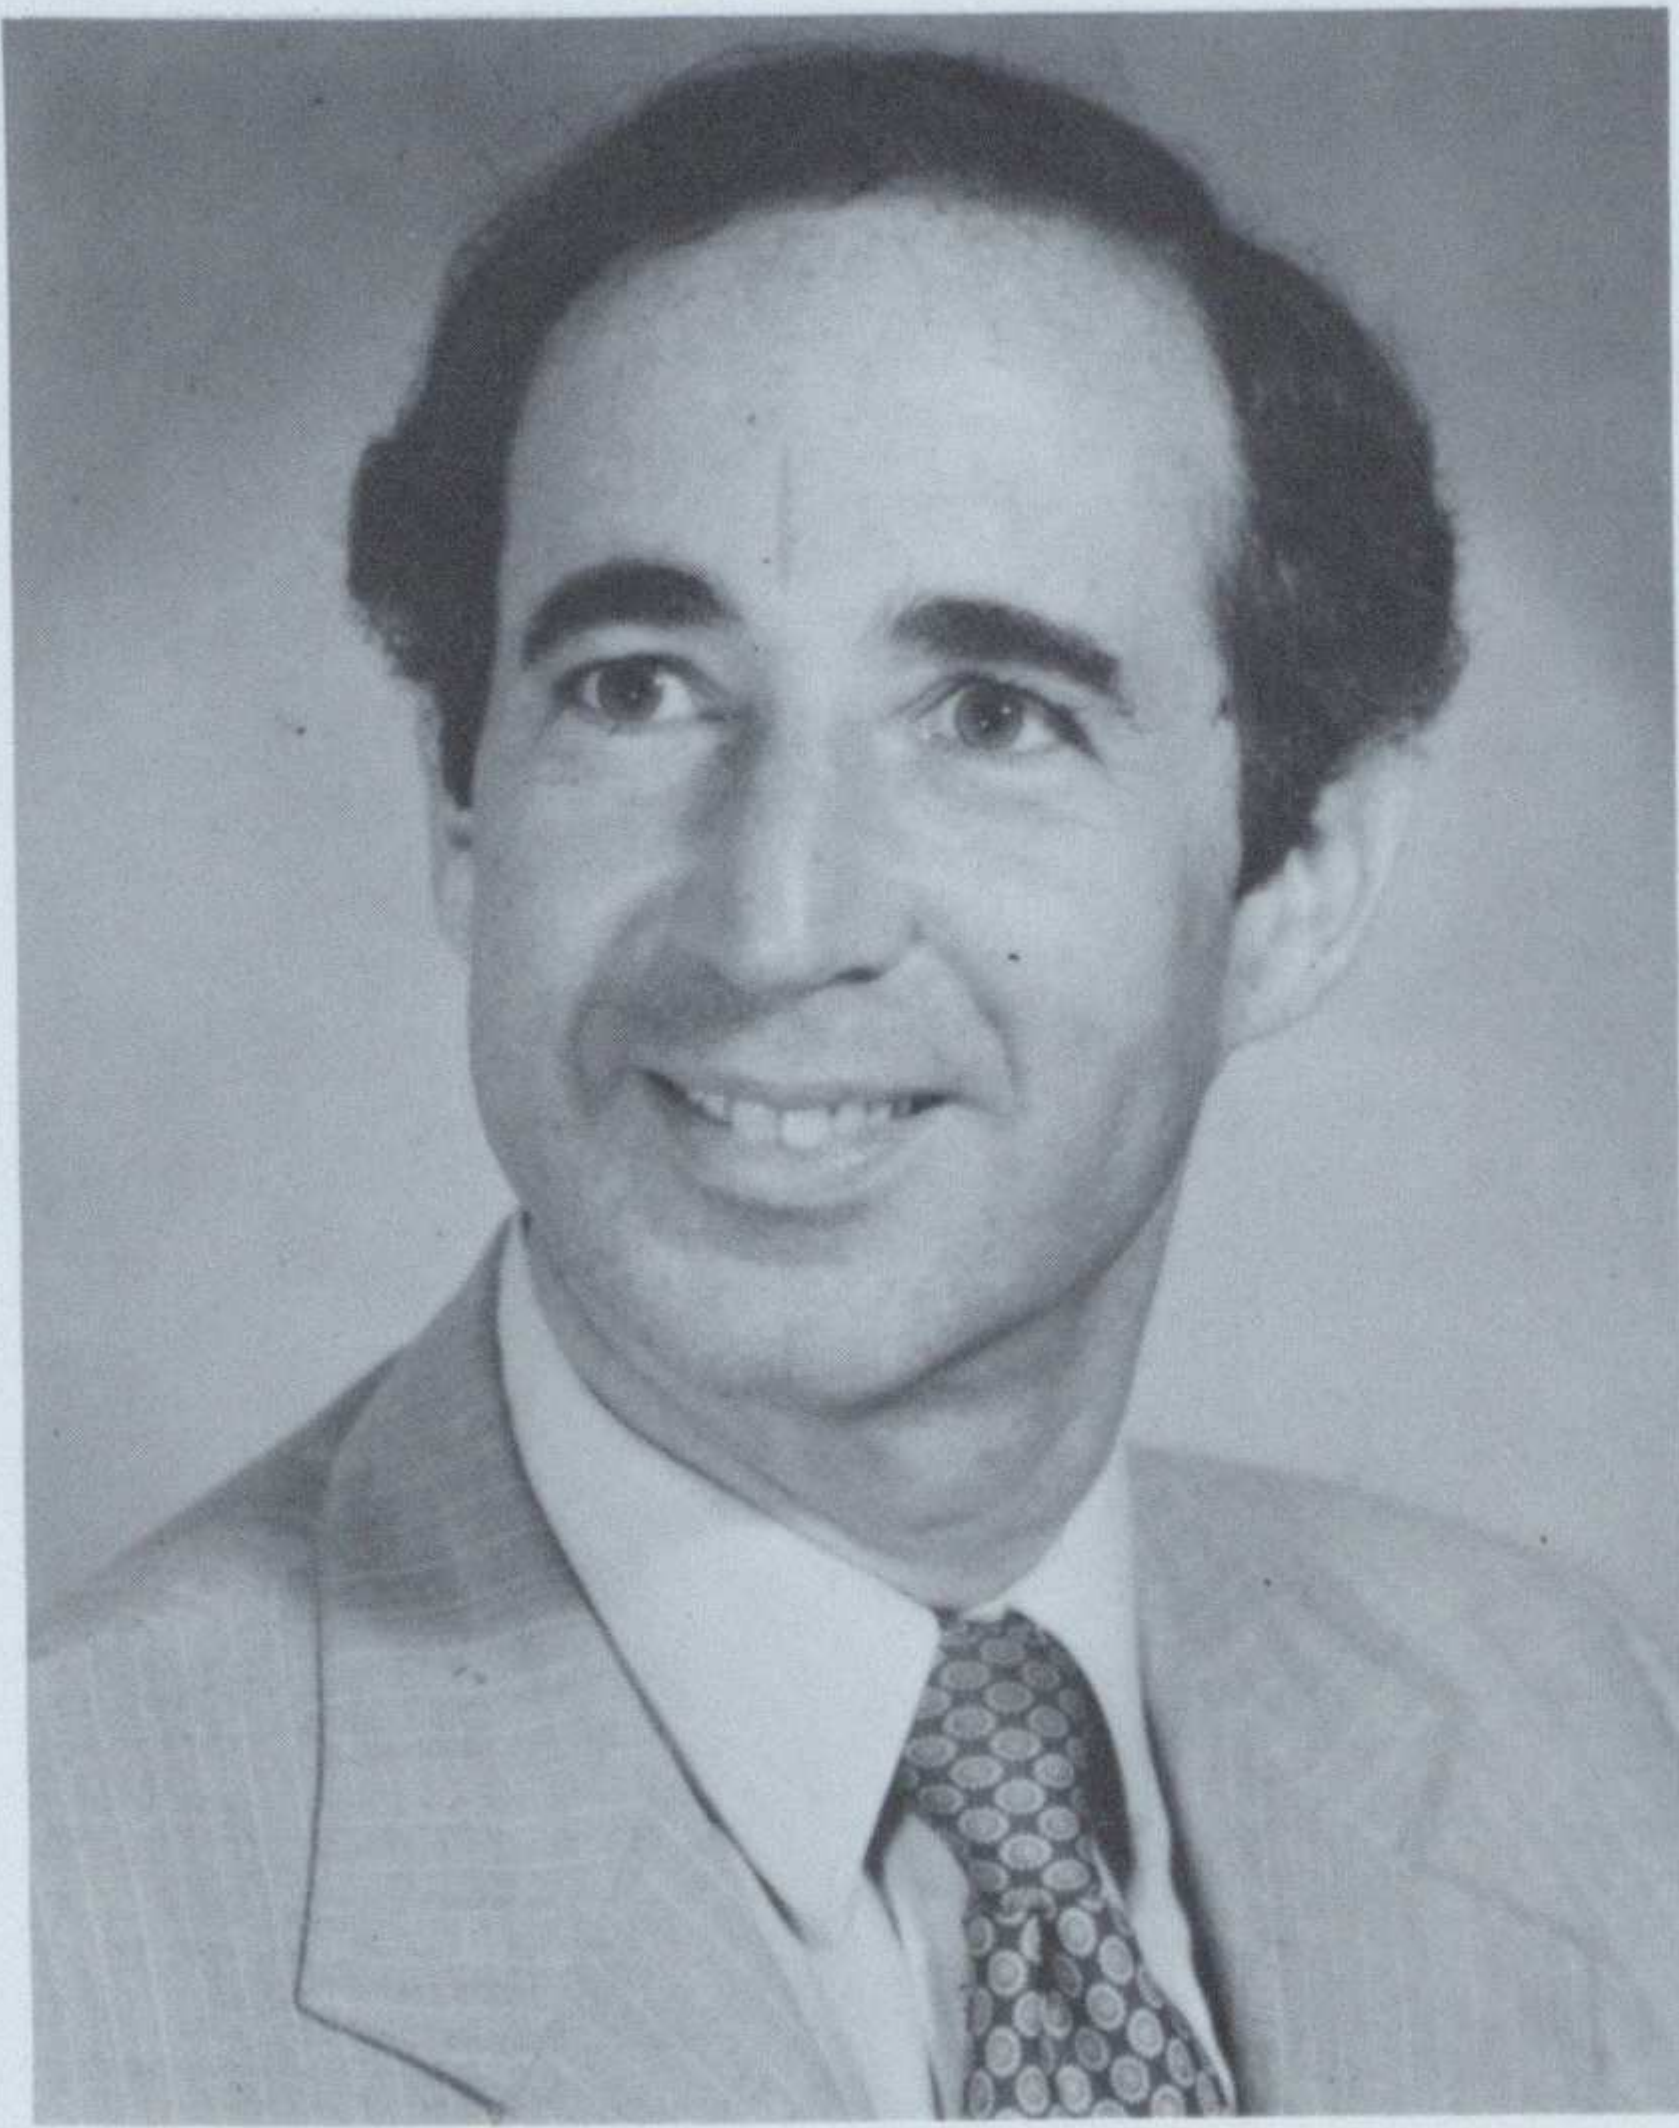

Congratulations

Arthur W. Porter
